I. INTRODUCTION

The issues presented in this case are best summarized by the following question: can a medical provider through his own negligence or misconduct disable a patient rendering her helpless and confined in the Intensive Care Unit of a medical facility unable to comprehend any legal proceedings for a four day period then claim that RCW 4.16.190 does not toll the statute of limitations during this actual period of disability that he, himself, created because it did not last long enough?

Petitioner's own October 9, 2006 Motion for Reconsideration in the Court of Appeals and her November 20, 2006 Petition for Review to this court reasonably frame the issues to be addressed in this appeal. Petitioner's Motion for Reconsideration is attached as Appendix 1 for the convenience of this court.

II. ASSIGNMENTS OF ERROR; ISSUES PERTAINING TO THE ASSIGNMENTS OF ERROR

A. The Court of Appeals erred by:

1. By holding that Plaintiffs admitted incapacity rendering her unable to understand the nature of the proceedings, lasting only four days, did not toll the medical statute of limitations under RCW 4.16.190

2. By holding that as a matter of law a four day period of admitted incapacity is not long enough to toll the statute of limitations.
3. By confusing the separate and distinct definition of incapacity set out in RCW 4.16.190 with an entirely separate and distinct definition of incapacity set forth in RCW Chapter 11.88, the guardianship statute and failing to recognize that each statute has its own separate and distinct definitions of incapacity.
4. By holding that although the appointment of a guardian is not required for Susan to utilize RCW 4.16.190, Susan had to show she was disabled long enough for a hypothetical guardianship to be initiated and completed. In other words, a hypothetical guardian appointed.
5. By depriving Susan of due process by incorrectly interpreting the tolling statute in a manner that deprived Susan of her full three year statuting period in which to investigate, contemplate and file her suit.
6. By interpreting RCW 4.16.190 and Chapter 11.88 RCW in such a way that leads to unlikely, absurd or strained consequences and which leaves future litigations unsure, uncertain and unclear how the tolling statute will be applied in the future.

7. By failing to properly give weight to the stated legislative purpose in amending RCW 4.16.190.

B. The error committed by the Court of Appeals compels this court to address the following issues:

1. Did the Court of Appeals err by holding that Plaintiff's admitted incapacity, lasting four days, did not toll the medical statute of limitations under RCW 4.16.190?
2. Did the Court misinterpret RCW 4.16.190 when it held that an admitted four day period of incapacity is too short, as a matter of law to toll the medical statute of limitations?
3. Did the Court confuse the definition of incapacity set out in RCW 4.16.190 with the separate definition of incapacity set forth in Chapter 11.88 RCW, the guardianship statute, by failing to recognize each statute has its own separate definitions of incompetency and disability unique to the specific purposes of each statute?
4. Whether by requiring a litigant to qualify for a guardian, the decision is in conflict with this Court's decision in Young v. Key Pharmaceuticals, 112 Wn 2d 216, 770 p. 2d 182 (1989), which held that the tolling statute is intended to operate regardless of a guardian's presence.

5. Whether the decision violates due process by wrongly interpreting the tolling statute in a manner that deprives a litigant of her full statutory period in which to investigate, contemplate and file her suit.
6. Whether it violates public policy and due process to interpret a tolling statute in a manner that leaves future litigants unsure, uncertain, and unclear as to how the tolling statute will be applied
7. Does the phrase “as determined according to the Chapter 11.88 RCW” in RCW 4.16.190 compel adoption of the Chapter 11.88 RCW definitions of incapacity to effect tolling or only compel the Court to use the Chapter 11.88 RCW due process of determining incompetency or disability (e.g. superior court determination, jury trial if requested, right to call witness, right to be present, right to legal representation, right to burden of proof, etc.)?
8. Should the requirement for appointing a guardian set forth in RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a-c), including “a demonstration of management insufficiencies over time” be applied to the tolling statute where the only question to be answered in the tolling statute is whether the litigant could understand the proceedings?

9. Should a litigant seeking relief under RCW 4.16.190 have to meet and satisfy only the definition of incapacity actually set forth in RCW 4.16.190 or does a litigant in addition have to satisfy the separate definitions of incapacity set forth in Chapter 11.88 RCW.

III. STATEMENT OF THE CASE

A. Statement of Relevant facts

The statement of relevant facts is fully set out in pages 1-3 of Susan's March 2, 2006 Brief filed in the Court of Appeals.

B. Procedural History

The procedural history of this case is fully set out in pages 3-7 of Susan's March 2, 2006 Brief filed in the Court of Appeals and on pages 4-6 of Susan's November 20, 2006 Petition for Review to this court.

C. Legislative History

The legislative history of the relevant statutes is fully set out in pages 8-9 Appendices 1-6 of Susan's March 2, 2006 Brief filed in the Court of Appeals. Appendices 1-6 are attached hereto as Appendix 2 (Sub-Appendix 1-6) for the convenience of the court.

IV. ARGUMENT

1. The Court of Appeals decision that an incompetency or disability lasting four days does not toll the statute of limitations conflicts with the plain language of the tolling statute.

The plain language of RCW 4.16.190 provides that:

If a person entitled to bring an action mentioned in this chapter...be at the time the cause of action accrued...incompetent or disabled to such a degree that he or she cannot understand the nature of the proceedings, such incompetency or disability as determined according to Chapter 11.88 RCW the time of such disability shall not be part of the time limited for commencement of action.

The clear intent and meaning of RCW 4.16.190 is that the running of the statute of limitations is tolled for any litigant during any period where he or she cannot understand the proceedings when his or her cause of action accrued. The only question facing this or any court is how to determine (“decide”) whether this particular RCW 4.16.190 disability existed. RCW 4.16.190 directs the use of the method set out in Chapter 11.88 to make this decision (“determination”).

It is crucial to note that Chapter 11.88 RCW has its own separate and distinct definitions of incompetency or incapacity – different from the definition in RCW 4.16.190. Chapter 11.88 RCW provides that its own two separate and unique definitions of disability are established when a superior court determines (decides) that they exist in an individual. RCW 11.88 010 (1) (a) and (b). RCW 11.88 045 tells the court what procedure to use in making the decision:

The alleged incapacitated person is further entitled to testify and present evidence and, upon request, entitled to a jury trial on the issues of his or her alleged incapacity. The standard of proof to be applied in a contested case, whether before a jury or the court, shall be that of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence. RCW 11.88 045

The clear inference is that the trial court determining whether the defined disability in RCW 4.16.190 is present would use the same legal methods or standards a guardianship court would use in determining whether the unique definitions of RCW 11.88. 010(1) (a-c) applied – that is, allowing the alleged incompetent to testify, present evidence, have a trial (Jury trial if requested) with the standard of proof being clear, cogent and convincing evidence of RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a-c) incapacity.

Instead, the Court of Appeals holds that to decide whether an RCW 4.16.190 disability exists that a full guardianship petition and process must be initiated hypothetically and that only the definitions of incompetency or disability used in Chapter 11.88 RCW apply, including the requirement that management insufficiencies over time be demonstrated. This leads to the absurd and confusing result that a litigant admittedly incompetent or disabled to such an extent that she couldn't understand the proceedings for a four day period during which time her cause of action accrued cannot avail herself of the intended benefits of the tolling statute because she cannot also fit under the separate definitions in the guardianship statute, including management insufficiencies over time.

Basic rules of statutory construction dictate that "[l]egislative definitions generally control in construing the statutes in which they appear." Childers v. Childers, 89 Wn.2d 592, 598, 575 P.2d 201 (1978), quoted in State v. Edwards, 92 Wn.App. 156, 163, 961 P.2d 969 (1998). Moreover, courts must construe the statute as a whole, giving effect to all the language used. All provisions of an act must be analyzed in relation to one another, and, if possible, harmonized to ensure proper construction of each provision. State v. Lee, 96 Wn. App. 336, 341, 979 P.2d 458 (1999). Accord: Moen v. Spokane City Police Dept., 110 Wn. App. 714, 42 P.3d 456 (2002).

"A court does not glean the meaning of a particular word from that word alone, but rather from the Legislature's intent within the statute as a whole." State v. J.A., 105 Wn. App. 879, 885, 20 P.3d 47 (2001) citing, Davis v. Dept. of Licensing, 137 Wn.2d 957, 963, 977 P.2d 554 (1999). Accord: Dahl-Smyth, Inc. v. Walla Walla, 110 Wn. App. 26, 38 P.3d 366, rev'd on other grounds, 147 Wn.2d 1001 (2002).

Appellate courts should always “focus during construction, when necessary...on the legislative context.” Spokane v. White, 102 Wn. App. 955, 961, 10 P.3d 1095 (2000), rev. denied, 142 Wn.2d 1011 (2001).

While recognizing the validity of statutes of limitation Washington Courts have refused to strain misinterpret either the law or facts to impose it. Cannavina v. Poston, 13 Wash. 2d 182, 124P. 2d 787 (1942); Hein v. Gravelle Farmer's Elevator Co., 164 Wash. 309, 2P. 2d 741, 78 ALR 631 (1931). In Rochester v. Tulp, 54 Wash. 2d 71, 74 337 P. 2d 1062 (1959), the Supreme Court reversed the trial court dismissal of a suit where the statute of limitations had expired by one day, holding:

The statute of limitations, although not an unconscionable defense, is not such a meritorious defense, that either the law or facts should be strained in aid of it. Wickwire v Reard 37 Wn. (2d) 748, 226 P. (2d) 192, 23 ALR (2d) 1323.

Likewise, courts will not indulge in presumptions in support of a defense of statute of limitations. Bain v. Wallace 167 Wash. 583, 10 P. 2d 226 (1932); Paul v Kohler & Chase 82 Wash. 257, 144 P. 64 (1914)

2. The Court of Appeals fails to give proper meaning to the word “determine” as used in RCW 4.16.190.

The common legal definition for the word “determine” is to decide. This is the definition set forth in Blacks Law Dictionary Fourth Edition (1957).

To bring to a conclusion, to settle by authoritative sentence.
To decide.

It is clear that the legislature in separately defining incompetency or disability in RCW 4.16.190 and by directing that the question of whether a litigant met this definition be decided according to Chapter 11.88 RCW did not intend to amend RCW 4.16.190 by adding more terms or definitions to it.

If a statute is plain and unambiguous its meaning must be derived from the language itself. Cockle v. Dept of Labor; Indus. 12 Wn.2d 801,807, 16 P.3d 583 (2001).

3. The Court of Appeals Decision by holding that a litigant must qualify for a guardian before he or she can avail himself or herself of the tolling provisions is in conflict with this court’s holdings in Young v. Key Pharmaceuticals and with the available authorities.

Young v. Key Pharmaceuticals, Inc. supra separated entirely the process of appointing a guardian under RCW 11.88 from the tolling statute RCW 4.16.190. In Young the defendant’s medical provider argued that because a guardian had been appointed for a minor, the Statute of Limitations began to run from the date of the appointment. Young rejected this argument holding that the rights conferred by RCW 4.16.190 were personal to the person entitled to bring the action, and could not be taken away whether or not a guardian was appointed.

The tolling statute makes no mention of the effect of a guardian's appointment, which we believe means that the statute was intended to operate regardless of the guardian's presence. Young at page 221.

The Young court also held as follows:

The tolling statute's plain language indicates the right it confers "on the person entitled to bring an action" is not diminished by the appointment of a guardian. The words "the time of such disability" refer to the person's disabling condition itself, not merely the disability to bring suit. This focus on the disabling condition is reinforced by the reference to RCW 11.88. Young at page 221.

In Young, the defendant argued for an erroneous interpretation of the statute of limitations that would lead to an absurd or unintended result. The court, in separating the underlying condition of the person claiming the benefit of the tolling statute from the guardianship procedure, held at Page 224:

Nevertheless, this result flows from unmistakable clear statutory language. We will not imply exceptions to statutes of limitations where they have not been expressly provided by the legislature.¹

¹ It should be noted that Young may have also failed to keep in mind the two separate definitions of incompetency in the two statutes but this issue was not germane to the question presented in Young since there a guardian had already been appointed. This is a good opportunity for the Supreme Court to correct any misimpression that might be caused by this dicta Young. Young was decided before "management insufficiencies over time" was added to Ch. 11.88 RCW in 1990.

Teglund and Ende in 15A, Washington Practice, Handbook, Civil Procedure § 4.5 provided an interpretation of RCW 4.16.190 consistent with the forgoing analysis:

It is doubtful that the legislature intended to require a formal determination of incapacity under RCWA 11.88 in order to justify tolling. Presumably, the standards for incapacity found in the guardianship statute are to be used as guides in determining whether a person seeking a toll could not “understand the nature of the proceeding” within the meaning of RCWA 4.16.190

Even assuming, for the sake of argument, that a guardianship had already been established for Susan using the definitions and procedures in RCW Ch.11.88 these proceedings would never have answered the question posed by RCW 4.16.190 - Susan’s ability or inability to understand the nature of the proceedings when her cause of action occurred - because that definition or criteria is nowhere mentioned in RCW 11.88. Instead RCW 11.88 proceedings would have focused on the definition or criteria for a guardianship of persons (RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a)) or estates (RCW 11.88.010 (1)(b)) using the “management insufficiencies over time” qualification (RCW 11.88.010 (1)(c)) none of which ever require proof that the alleged incapacitated person could not understand the nature of the proceedings. Therefore, if Susan had claimed tolling solely because she was the subject of a guardianship, the inquiry would not end there.

The litigants would still have to look backward. Susan would still have to establish in an independent proceeding before court or a jury that she could not understand the nature of the proceedings when her cause of action accrued. The trial court or jury would still have to look backwards to July 19-23, 1996, the dates the Plaintiff was incapacitated.

4. If the legislature had intended to engraft the definitions of incompetency or disability set forth in Chapter 11.88 RCW they would have clearly said so.

The plain language of RCW 4.16.190 says nothing about adapting the definitions of incompetency or disability set out in Chapter 11.88 RCW, more particularly RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a-c). If the legislature had intended to engraft these specialized definitions into the tolling statute it could easily have done so, by stating "incompetency or disability as defined in Ch. 11.88 RCW" or "as defined in RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a-c)" but it did not.

The decision by the Court of Appeals impermissibly adds terms that are not present in the tolling statute. This violates due process and the usual and normal rules of statutory construction. It also creates vagueness and uncertainty, leaving numerous litigants guessing at the meaning of RCW 4.16.190, in violation of Article I § 3 of the Constitution of Washington and established case law. Anderson v.

Issaquah, 70 Wn. App. 64, 75, 851 P.2d 744 (1993) (“a statute which either forbids or requires the doing of an act in terms so vague that men [and women] must necessarily guess at its meaning and differ as to its application, violates the first essential due process of law”). Here, even the Court of Appeals is unable to set out any specifics as to the minimum period of incapacity forcing dozens to guess later. App. A decision at page 9 (no “bright line”).

5. The reading of RCW 4.16.190 by the Court of Appeals leads to unlikely, absurd or strained consequences.

This court should accept review and offer a proper interpretation of RCW 4.16.190. The Court of Appeals asserts that because Plaintiff had not gone through the entire hypothetical guardianship process set forth in RCW 11.88, RCW 4.16.190 could never operate to toll the Statute of Limitations. But in making that assertion, the court ignores the problem that still would be left to be faced by the current finder of fact even if Susan had been subject to a guardianship since July 19, 1996: whether she understood the nature of the proceedings at the time of the cause of action occurred and how long did this specific condition persist. RCW 11.88 and RCW 4.16.190 pose substantially different questions. Using the results of an RCW 11.88 guardianship to conclusively prove the requirements of RCW 4.16.190 were met is absurd. What if only a limited guardian was appointed? What if serious deficiencies over time were enough for a full and formal guardianship of both her person and estate, but Susan could still understand the nature of the proceedings? The question posed by RCW 4.16.190 wouldn't have been addressed. The trial court (or jury) who actually faces that issue in a Statute of Limitations context will always have to address that issue regardless of whether a guardian was appointed and will always have to do so by looking backward to the time the cause of action accrued.

Washington courts have held that they will adopt the interpretation of statutes that best advances the legislative purpose and avoids unlikely, absurd, or strained consequences. Thurston County ex rel. Bd. Of County Com'rs v. City of Olympia 151 Wn. 2d 171, 86 P.3d 151 (2004). Put another way, when the court construes a statute, spirit and intent of the statute should prevail over the literal letter of the law, and there should be made that interpretation which best advances legislative purpose. Dumas v. Gagner 137 Wn. 2d 268, 971 P. 2d 17 (1999) reconsideration denied.

And the legislature clearly stated their purpose in passing the 1977 amendments to RCW 4.16.190 and felt strongly enough about it to make a separate statement of intent and purpose:

1977 WASH. LAWS EX. SESS. Ch. 80, § 1, which provides: It is the purpose of the legislature in enacting this 1977 amendatory act to provide for a comprehensive revision of outdated and offensive language, procedures and assumptions that have previously been used to identify and categorize mentally, physically, and sensory handicapped citizens. It is legislative intent that language references such as idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded or defective persons be deleted and replaced with more appropriate references to reflect current statute law more recently enacted by the federal government and this legislature. It is legislative belief that use of the undefined term "insanity" be avoided in preference to the use of a process for defining incompetency or disability as fully set forth in chapter 11.88 RCW; that language that has allowed or implied a presumption of incompetency or disability on the basis of an apparent condition or appearance be deleted in favor of a reference to necessary due process allowing a judicial determination of the existence or lack of existence of such incompetency or disability. Appendix 2, Sub-Appendix 6.

What the legislature clearly said was that they wanted to establish:

"necessary due process allowing a judicial determination of the existence or lack of existence of such incompetency of disability"

This is previously why the most sensible interpretation of RCW 4.16.190 is for this court to say that the reference to RCW Ch 11.88 does not engraft the guardianship definitions into the tolling statute or require the appointment of a guardian. RCW 4.16.190 only requires due process set out in Ch 11.88 RCW, most notable RCW 11.88.045 (3). for the benefit of both sides in determining Susan's condition at the time her cause of action accrued – a full trial (jury trial if requested, presenting witnesses, counsel present, right to attend, etc) on the issues. In fact, the word “determine” really refers to a full hearing with findings to put an end to a matter.

This interpretation is in harmony with the general rule in all statute of limitation cases which hold that determination of when the statute begins to run (which is the real underlying issue here) is a question of fact for the court or the jury. Okler v. Tacoma General Hospital 92 Wash. 2d 507, 598 P. 2d 1358 (1929); Howard v Equitable Life Assur. Soc. of US 197 Wash. 230, 95 P 2d 253, 119 ALR 1302. And, since the statute of limitations is an affirmative defense the burden is on defendant to prove these facts which establish this defense. Hanslund v. City of Seattle 86 Wash. 2d 607, 547 P. 2d 507 (1976).

6. This case involves an issue of substantial public interest.

Cases involving statutes of limitation or issues regarding time limits are highly significant. Young supra, Troxell v. Rainier Pub. Sch. Dist. 154 Wn 2d 119, P.3d 1173 (2005). It is of vital public interest to have these questions properly determined, an important provision of RAP 13.4 (b)(4). Strikes Woods Neighborhood Assoc. v. City of Lacy, 124 Wn 2d 459, 880 P.2d 25 (1994) emphasized the public importance of these decisions:

It is a well accepted premise that litigants and potential litigants are entitled to know that a matter as basic as time computation will be carried out in an easy, clear and consistent manner, thereby eliminating traps for the unwary who seek to assert or defend their rights (Strikes at page 463).

Plaintiff and numerous other litigants are entitled to a sensible and reasonable way to determine when the statute of limitations is tolled and for how long. They shouldn't have to guess or be subject to the judicial uncertainty created by the Court of Appeals decision.

7. Nothing in the legislative history of RCW 4.16.190 suggests that the legislature did not retain its own exclusive definition of incompetency or disability or that it intended to adopt Chapter 11.88 RCW's definition of incompetency or incapacity or provide tolling only to those who have management insufficiencies over time.

The complete legislative history of RCW 4.16.190 is set forth in Appendix 2, sub-appendices 1-6. Nothing in the legislative history supports the Court of Appeals interpretation of RCW 4.16.190.

RCW 11.88.010 was amended by substitute Senate Bill No. 2086 (Chapter 95, Washington Laws, 1st ex. Sess) in 1975 to eliminate reference to "Imbecility" or "Idiocy" and establish the concept of a limited guardianship. Sub-Appendix 1.

RCW 4.16.190 was amended by substitute Senate Bill No. 2872 (Chapter 80, Washington Laws, 1st ex. Sess) which also amended a number of provisions of other sections of the Revised Code of Washington including RCW 4.16.190 § 2; RCW 5.60.030 § 3 – witness competency RCW 6.12 § 4-6 – Homesteads; RCW 7.28 § 7 – adverse possession, etc. A copy of this bill and all the legislative history of this amendment are attached. Sub-Appendix 2 and Sub-Appendix 5.

The Judiciary Committee in 1977 in amending RCW 4.16.190 confirmed its intent to eliminate objectionable terms and provide a better definition of disability and incompetency. Sub-Appendix 5.

In fact, the legislature felt so strongly about the purpose and intent of the amendment in SSB 2872 that it enacted a statement of purpose in section one of the Act. See IV (5) supra. Sub-Appendix 2. This purpose is set forth in the historical and statutory notes in the annotated version of RCW 4.16.190. Sub-Appendix 6.

At the same time the legislature amended RCW 11.88.010 by Chapter 309 of Washington Laws, 1977 1st Sess. To eliminate reference to the terms "insanity" and "mental retardation". A copy of the relevant portion of Chapter 309 is set forth in Sub-Appendix 3.

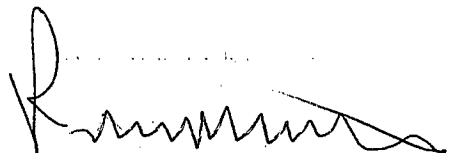

RCW 11.88 was amended substantially again in 1990 by Substitute Senate Bill no. 6868 (Chapter 122 Washington Laws 1990). Sub-Appendix 4, adding the "over time" concept to RCW 11.88.010 (1)(c).

RCW 4.16.190 was amended for the last time in 1993 to clarify the application of tolling provisions to imprisoned persons. Sub-Appendix 6.

V. CONCLUSION

RCW 4.16.190 and Chapter 11.88 RCW are two different statutes serving two different purposes, each with its own definitions of disability or incapacity. The one thing they have in common is that the Legislature has directed that in establishing or disestablishing the existence or lack of existence of the unique condition or circumstance described by each statute there be a necessary due process. RCW 11.88.045 spells it out the due process requirements and RCW 4.15.190 and the attached statement of legislative purpose direct the court to use that same due process in establishing or disestablishing whether a litigant was disabled to such a degree that he or she could not understand the proceedings.

LAW OFFICE OF
RICHARD C. CARRITHERS
By Richard C. Carrithers
Attorney for Respondent

I. STATEMENT OF RELIEF SOUGHT

Respondent Susan Rivas requests this court reconsider its decision dismissing Rivas' complaint with prejudice. As will be discussed below, the court's decision fails to consider that the tolling statute (RCW 4.16.190) and the guardianship statute (Chapter 11.88 RCW) each has its own distinct and separate definitions of disability. As will also be seen below, both appellants and respondents have suffered from the same failure in the briefs submitted to this court. Respondent first realized this error in preparing for oral argument and Respondent's attempts to call this error to the court's attention were unsuccessful. By failing to recognize that the tolling statute and the guardianship statute have two separate and distinct definitions of incompetency or disability and by using the two statutory definitions interchangeably, that is by applying the guardianship statutes definition "...management insufficiencies over time..." to the tolling statute, this court has created confusion and uncertainty that may lead to absurd and confusing results not contemplated or intended by the legislature. It means, for example, that a person who is actually unable to understand the nature of the proceedings for 4 days is unable to use the tolling statute because 4 days isn't enough to prove "management insufficiencies over time.” Unfortunately, as seen below, the trial court and the parties themselves must also share this responsibility.

II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

A. SUMMARY OF RELEVANT FACTS

In 1996, Plaintiff suffered hypertension (elevated blood pressure). Her blood pressure was being controlled by medication. She was referred to a nephrologist who determined that stenosis in her right renal artery may be the cause of her elevated blood pressure. (CP 557). She was admitted to Overlake Hospital Medical Center on July 19, 1996 for what she thought was an angiogram. Defendant Muraki performed an angiogram and then performed a renal angioplasty of Susan’s right renal artery. A major risk of renal angioplasty is a dissection or rupture of the renal artery causing interruption in blood flow to the kidney. A renal artery dissection can cause loss of the kidney.

The angioplasty to Susan’s right renal artery actually caused a dissection or rupture of this artery – a known complication. Defendant Muraki failed to inform Susan of the risk of this complication and failed to recognize the dissection when it began to occur, failed to call for a surgical consultation at any time, and took no remedial action to prevent the loss of Susan's right kidney. (CP 522-523).

Defendant Muraki's misdiagnosis and failure to act promptly on the arterial rupture and the resulting complications resulted in Susan's admission to the Intensive Care Unit (ICU) at Overlake Hospital where she lay in a helpless and almost comatose state suffering from life threatening complications. (CP 108-186; CP 555-636; CP 637-640; CP 641 - 646), Susan has no memory of the four days in the ICU. This was noted on July 24, 1996 by Susan's own treating physician while Susan was still in the hospital. (CP 108-110; CP 137). During her stay in the ICU, in addition to her other disabling complications, Susan was heavily medicated with various painkillers and sedatives. (CP 556-557). This court has correctly concluded, for the purposes of this appeal that Rivas was totally helpless in the ICU between July 19 and July 23.

The loss of Susan's kidney became inevitable due to loss of blood supply by midday July 20, 1996.

Defendant Muraki's act or omission causing the loss of Susan's kidney occurred on July 19 - 20, 1996. Susan's cause of action accrued on July 20, 1996 when the loss of her kidney became inevitable. Defendant Muraki continued to treat Susan up to and including July 21, 1996 (CP 130; 289; 299) when he finally concurred in Dr. Ombrellaro's recommendation of surgery to remove the kidney. (CP130). Susan's kidney was surgically removed by Dr. Ombrellaro on July 22, 1996 (CP 299). Susan was transferred from the ICU to a regular hospital room on July 23, 1996. Susan filed this present action three years after Defendant Muraki ended his controversial course of treatment on July 21, 1999 and less than three years after her kidney was removed on July 22, 1996.

B. TRIAL COURTS RULINGS—STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

Unfortunately, even Judge Scott and the litigants below failed to keep in mind that the tolling statute and the guardianship statute each had its own separate and distinct definition of incompetency or disability and inadvertently interchanged the definitions.

For example, Judge Scott's ruling on November 28, 2000, cited by this court on page 3, stated that the tolling statute:

Does not require the actual appointment of a guardian pursuant to Ch. 11.88 RCW, but instead, permits a determination by the court in this action on the incompetency/disability issue with reference to the standards set forth in Ch. 11.88 RCW (emphasis added).

And in Judge Scott's other ruling on January 7, 2005, he found:

There are genuine issues of material fact as to whether Plaintiff was incapacitated at the time her cause of action occurred under the meaning of RCW chapter 11.88 (emphasis added) CP 746-749.

In both his rulings, Judge Scott implicitly stated that in determining the tolling question the court or the jury could also apply the definitions of Chapter 11.88 RCW. This meant, then, that the "over time" definition in Chapter 11.88 RCW was wrongly put in the tolling statute.

Appellants must also share the blame for this confusion; asserting in their brief:

Thus, when the legislature specified that incompetency or disability under RCW Ch. 11.88 requires "management insufficiencies over time," it could not have intended that a few days inability to function would qualify (emphasis added). Reply Brief of Appellants, page 9.

Respondent likewise shares responsibility: in her own brief she argued by implication that the definitions in the tolling statute and the guardianship statute were interchangeable, or put another way, the tolling issue could be determined with reference to the guardianship statute's own definitions of incompetency or disability:

It is clear that the 1977 amendment to RCW 4.16.190 was not intended by the legislature to engraft the entire guardianship statute and procedures therein onto RCW 4.16.190; but instead only adopt the more enlightened definitions of disability and incompetency to avoid insult and demeaning reference to all litigants. Reply Brief of Appellants, page 16.

All this is only to show that even an informed litigant after volumes of research and with every reason to correctly apply the law, can overlook this vital point. Even though Respondent finally realized the confusion and mistake everyone was making, and attempted to point it out to the court in oral argument one cannot be too critical of this court—the concept is not readily apparent. This is why Respondent is respectfully taking the extra time to give this court a full explanation on this vital point.

III. ARGUMENT

A. TWO SEPARATE AND DISTINCT DEFINITIONS OF INCOMPETENCY OR DISABILITY

1. RCW 4.16.190

RCW 4.16.190 provides only a short but very distinct definition of incompetency or disability relevant here:

“...incompetent or disabled to such a degree that he or she cannot understand the nature of the proceedings.”

It is true, and here is where correct statutory analysis requires caution, once RCW 4.16.190 defines incompetency or disability it instructs the court on how the question of whether a person can or cannot understand the nature of the proceedings is to be determined.

“...~~as~~ determined according to Chapter 11.88 RCW...”

We know RCW 4.16.190 has its own definition because RCW 4.16.190 specifically refers to its own definition of incompetency or disability by saying right after its own definition:

“...such incompetency or disability as determined according to Chapter 11.88 RCW.”

This means that the only incompetency or disability that would be determined according to Chapter 11.88 RCW is that defined in the tolling statute—not the guardianship statute. As will be seen below, under Chapter 11.88 RCW the tolling statute definition of incompetency or disability is to be determined by a superior court—a judge or jury if the alleged incompetent requests it.

2. Chapter 11.88 RCW

On the other hand, Chapter 11.88 RCW also has its own definition of incompetency or disability (called collectively "incapacity" under RCW 11.88.010 (f)) as set out in RCW 11.88.010(1):

- (a) For purposes of this chapter, a person may be deemed incapacitated as to person when the superior court determines the individual has a significant risk of personal harm based upon a demonstrated inability to adequately provide for nutrition, health, housing, or physical safety.
- (b) For purposes of this chapter, a person may be deemed incapacitated as to the person's estate when the superior court determines the individual is at significant risk of financial harm based upon a demonstrated inability to adequately manage property or financial affairs.
- (c) A determination of incapacity is a legal not a medical decision, based upon a demonstration of management insufficiencies over time in the area of person or estate. Age, eccentricity, poverty, or medical diagnosis alone shall not be sufficient to justify a finding of incapacity.

3. Ch. 11.88 RCW definitions assume the alleged incompetent or disabled person may in fact understand the proceedings.

It is clear that these guardianship definitions or standards are separate and distinct and make no reference at all to RCW 4.16.190 and are not concerned about whether an individual cannot understand the nature of the proceedings. In fact, the entire thrust of the Guardianship statute is to offer due process to alleged incapacitated persons who presumably can understand the nature of the proceedings. Here are the most obvious examples:

RCW 11.88.030(4)(a)—serving the alleged incapacitated person notice of the guardianship petition.

RCW 11.88.030(4)(b)—giving the alleged incapacitated person a clear statement of legal rights to counsel of choice, court appointed attorney, the right to testify personally in court, the right to a jury trial; the right to replace a court-appointed GAL.

RCW 11.88.040—giving the alleged incompetent the right to be represented by counsel which envisions consultation and preparation, right to testify, right to choose a jury trial, etc.

A careful reading of Chapter 11.88 RCW will reveal numerous other instances. In fact, the “over time” definition of RCW 11.88.010(1)(c) is part of Ch. 11.88 RCW to deal with this very point—that persons subject to guardianships are at least presumed to understand the nature of the proceedings.

The presumption that an alleged incompetent under Ch. 11.88 RCW can understand the nature of the proceedings is also set forth in the statement of legislative intent in RCW 11.88.005:

It is the intent of the legislature to protect the liberty and autonomy of all people of this state, and to enable them to exercise their rights under the law to the maximum extent, consistent with the capacity of each person. The legislature recognizes that people with incapacities have unique abilities and needs, and that some people with incapacities cannot exercise their rights or provide for their basic needs without the help of a guardian. However, their liberty and autonomy should be restricted through the guardianship process only to the minimum extent necessary to adequately provide for their own health or safety, or to adequately manage their financial affairs (emphasis added).

B. SUPERIOR COURT IN CH. 11.88 RCW HAS TWO DISTINCT FUNCTIONS

Under Ch. 11.88 RCW the Superior Court has two distinct tasks;

(1) Determine whether or not an alleged incompetent is in fact incapacitated within the definitions of incompetency and disability set forth in RCW 11.88.010 (a), (b) or (c) and (2) appoint guardians or limited guardians for incapacitated persons, set the terms of the guardianship and remove or replace guardians. These two entirely different responsibilities are spelled out clearly in the various sections of Ch. 11.88 RCW.

C. DETERMINATION OF INCAPACITY—THE FIRST FUNCTION

RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a), (b), and (c) imposes on the superior court (judge or jury) the obligation to determine incapacity as defined in RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a) and (b) and in (c) orders that the determination of such incapacity is a legal question:

RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a)—“...when a superior court determines...”

RCW 11.88.010 (1)(b)—“...when a superior court determines...”

RCW 11.88.010 (1) (c)--“...a legal not a medical decision...”

In determining the answer to this legal question, RCW 11.88.045

(3) provides specifically:

The alleged incapacitated person is further entitled to testify and present evidence and, upon request, entitled to a jury trial on the issues of his or her alleged incapacity. The standard of proof to be applied in a contested case, whether before a jury or the court, shall be that of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

D. APPOINTING AND REMOVING GUARDIANS; SETTING AND MODIFYING TERMS OF GUARDIANSHIP—THE SECOND FUNCTION

RCW 11.88.010 (1) grants the superior court power to appoint guardians and sub-section (2) gives power to appoint limited guardians. RCW 11.88.120 and .140 give the superior court power to modify the terms of or terminate a guardianship.

Focusing solely on the superior court's first task—determination of incapacity as defined in Ch. 11.88—it is clear that the superior court (judge or jury) makes the determination. The second task, appointment of a guardian, is much more complex, requiring all the notice and due process requirements set out in Ch. 11.88. All of the extensive time requirements noted by this Court of Appeals in its decision have to do with the Guardianship process. If there were not going to be a guardian where an individual could be deprived of liberty, civil rights (including voting) and property we wouldn't need all this time.

E. DETERMINATION OF RCW 4.16.190 INCAPACITY

Which brings us to the central point of this motion: RCW 4.16.190 has its own definition of incompetency or disability. This court agrees that in order for a litigant to enjoy the protections of RCW 4.16.190 a guardianship need not have been appointed. So far so good. This is consistent with RCW 4.16.190 having its own definition of incompetency or disability.

But when the court insists that Respondent now has to prove that a guardianship process could have been completed entirely, including the selection and appointment of a GAL and a guardian, and an order setting the terms of the guardianship, during the period of alleged disability and before the period of disability ends is mixing up the two distinct statutory definitions. The clear implication of this court's decision is that a guardianship would have had to have been established using the definitions of Ch.

11.88 RCW (“...a demonstration of management insufficiencies over time”), not the definition in the tolling statute.

RCW 4.16.190 says nothing about adopting the definitions of RCW 11.88.010 (1) (a)-(c). If the legislature had wanted to adopt the definitions it could have done so. It could have said, “as defined in Ch. 11.88 RCW,” or, “as defined in RCW 11.88.010 (1)(a)-(c),” but it did not.

In fact, the appellants, in their Reply Brief, make this very point when they point out that in the 1977 legislature’s rash of amendments to numerous statutes the legislature provided that some amended statutes would specifically adopt the definitions of incompetency or disability set out in Ch. 11.88 RCW and some (including RCW 4.16.190) would not:

In contrast, the Legislature amended other statutes in the same act to require merely incompetency “within the meaning of RCW 11.88.010” See, e.g. 1977 WASH. LAWS 1st EX. SESS., ch. 80, ss 7-8 15 (emphasis added). REPLY BRIEF OF APPELLANTS, page 7-8

This is the point. If the legislature had intended to engraft the guardianship definitions of incapacity into the tolling statute it could have easily done so. The fact that it did not must mean that RCW 4.16.190 retains its own definition and the reference to Ch.

11.88 RCW refers to the fact that the determination shall be by Superior Court judge or jury and by the standards of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence with Susan bearing the burden of proof (emphasis added).

This is also consistent with the definition of "determine" set forth in Black's Law Dictionary Fourth Edition (1957):

To bring to a conclusion, to settle by authoritative sentence.
To decide.

We are only left with the question of how the definition of incompetency or disability as set forth in RCW 4.16.190 is to be determined.

If it is to be determined "according to Ch. 11.88 RCW" then we can only look to the portion of Ch. 11.88 RCW where it is spelled out how and where a Superior Court will make that determination. There is only one part of Ch. 11.88 RCW which deals with this question and that is RCW 11.88.045 (3):

The alleged incapacitated person is further entitled to testify and present evidence and, upon request, entitled to a jury trial on the issues of his or her alleged incapacity. The standard of proof to be applied in a contested case, whether before a jury or the court, shall be that of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

This is the only section of the entire Ch. 11.88 RCW where the court spells out how the issues of a person's alleged incapacity are to be determined—by a Superior Court, judge or jury, with the standard of proof being clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

Since the only task of the Superior Court under RCW 4.16.190 is to determine according to Ch. 11.88 RCW the existence or non-existence of the RCW 4.16.190 ~~defined~~ disability (a person cannot understand the nature of the proceedings), the court does not have to appoint a guardian or limited guardian and worry about management insufficiencies over time and the only reasonable interpretation of RCW 4.16.190 as applied to the facts of this case is to hold that:

1. The issue of whether Susan Rivas was incompetent or disabled to such a degree that she cannot understand the nature of the proceedings is reserved for the trial court, or if Susan requests, a Jury. RCW 11.88.045 (3)
2. RCW 4.16.190 has no time limit, the only requirement being that Susan must prove she was incapacitated at the time her cause of action accrued (in this case, July 20, 1996 at which time the loss of Susan's kidney became inevitable), RCW 4.16.250.

3. Susan must prove that her incapacity lasted from July 19, 1996 at least until July 21, 1996.
4. As provided by RCW 11.88.045, Susan may testify and present evidence (to the court or to the jury at her option) on the issues of her alleged incapacity.
5. If Susan's claim that she was unable to understand the proceedings is contested, she must meet the standard of proof, requiring clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.
6. Susan bears the burden of proof on all issues.

IV. CONCLUSION

By not keeping the two definitions of incompetency separate and by improperly engrafting the Ch. 11.88 RCW (RCW 11.88.010 (1) (a)-(c)) definitions of incapacity onto RCW 4.16.190, especially the "...management insufficiencies over time in the area of person or estate," we lose sight of the whole purpose of RCW 4.16.190—which is to toll the statute of limitations during any period in which a plaintiff is unable to understand the nature of the proceedings, provided that disability exists at the same time the cause of action occurred. A later disability or a disability that later re-occurs after the first disability resolves itself does not toll the statute.

The requirement that the disability separately defined in RCW 4.16.190 be determined according to Ch. 11.88 RCW creates no problem—this particular disability can be determined just as Ch. 11.88 RCW says it should be in RCW 11.88.045 (3): by testimony and evidence in open court, before a judge or jury, subject to the standard of proof requiring clear, cogent, or convincing evidence.

This is the only interpretation of both statutes that makes sense. By not confusing the two separate definitions we avoid the absurdity of a holding that the statute may have been tolled between 1977 and 1990 before subsection (1)(c) (“management insufficiencies over time”) was added to RCW 11.88.010 or before 1993 when RCW 4.16.190 was amended again, allegedly adopting Ch. 11.88 RCW.

This is also the only interpretation consistent with the legislative history of RCW 4.16.190 because nowhere in its history have appellants been able to point to any intent or purpose by the legislature to shorten the tolling period one minute, one week, or one month.

In fact, the statement of legislative purpose accompanying RCW 4.16.190, provided this court by appellants on July 10, 2006, compels the clear conclusion is that (1) there is a process for defining incompetency or disability as defined in chapter 11.88 RCW because Ch. 11.88 has its own definitions of incompetency or disability and (2) there must be necessary due process allowing a Judicial determination of the existence or lack of existence of such incompetency or disability.

1977 WASH. LAWS EX. SESS. Ch. 80, § 1, which provides:
It is the purpose of the legislature in enacting this 1997 amendatory act to provide for a comprehensive revision of out-dated and offensive language, procedures and assumptions that have previously been used to identify and categorize mentally, physically, and sensory handicapped citizens. It is legislative intent that language references such as idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded or defective persons be deleted and replaced with more appropriate references to reflect current statute law more recently enacted by the federal government and this legislature. It is legislative belief that use of the undefined term "insanity" be avoided in preference to the use of a process for defining incompetency or disability as fully set forth in chapter 11.88 RCW; that language that has allowed or implied a presumption of incompetency or disability on the basis of an apparent condition or appearance be deleted in favor of a reference to necessary due process allowing a judicial determination of the existence or lack of existence of such incompetency or disability. STATEMENT OF ADDITIONAL AUTHORITIES.

Why shouldn't Susan get the benefit of the very due process that the law intended? Since Susan never needed a guardian because she was under the care of trained hospital staff even though she was totally unable to understand the proceedings, why should she be deprived of due process?

The court's holding that the tolling statute could never operate for a period of 4 days as a matter of law leaves all future litigants in an uncertain and confusing state. If not 4 days, then a week? Two weeks? A month? Six months?

The answer this court seems to give is if there was not enough time to appoint a guardian during the alleged period of incompetency it doesn't count. This court stipulates for the purposes of this appeal that Susan was disabled or incapacitated for the 4 days but 4 days isn't enough. The court will let everyone know later, perhaps after another time-consuming appeal, how many days is enough.

In Respondent's Reply Brief she has already cited those standard cases and authorities relating to proper principals of statutory interpretation such as: (1) to ascertain and give effect to the legislatures intent and (2) to read a statute to avoid unlikely, absurd, or strained consequences.

Even if Susan had a guardianship established for her in 1996 for any number of reasons, but it ended in 1998, what do we do now? Wouldn't we still have to do what Susan requests? Wouldn't the trial court in Susan's medical negligence trial still have to have an evidentiary hearing on the particular disability definition in RCW 4.16.190—and wouldn't the medical negligence Superior Court judge or jury, with the help of Susan's attorney, still have to decide whether she has provided proof of her disability by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence? And wouldn't that issue all have to be decided now?

And even if, as is the case here, Susan never had a guardianship, wouldn't it still fall to the Superior Court hearing Susan's medical negligence claim to hold a hearing, now, on the issue of whether Susan could have understood the proceedings during the four days in question. The court would not be limited to a four day period or any period in order to reach its determination. The Superior Court can and should take all the time it needs now, after the fact, to assure due process for everyone. If there is no need now for a guardianship the court need not worry about appointing one or all of the guardianship safeguards in the statute—the court need only, as set out in RCW 11.88.045(3) assure everyone due process and assure that Susan meets her burden of proof on the issue of incompetency by clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

Susan has suffered a terrible wrong. For the purpose of this case it is assumed she was unable to understand the proceedings for at least 4 days while she was helpless in the intensive care unit of Overlake Hospital—rendered helpless by the very act of medical negligence on which the dismissed claim. Why lead Susan to water but deprive her of due process by not letting her drink?

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Section 1. There is added to chapter 11.88 RCW a new section to read as follows:

It is the intent and purpose of the legislature to recognize that mentally retarded, developmentally disabled, and other allegedly mentally incompetent persons have special and unique abilities and competencies with varying degrees of disability.

Such persons must be legally protected without the necessity for determination of total incompetency and without the attendant deprivation of civil and legal rights that such a determination requires.

Sec. 2. Section 11.88.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superior court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of incompetent persons resident of the county, and guardians for the estates of all such persons who are nonresidents of the state but who have property in such county needing care and attention.

An "incompetent" is any person who is either

((a)) Under the age of majority, as defined in RCW 11.92.010, or

((b)) Incapable ((c)) Incompetent by reason of insanity, mental illness, (imbecility, idiocy,) mental retardation, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, of either managing his property or caring for himself or both.

(2) The superior court for each county shall have power to appoint limited guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of disabled persons, who by reason of their disability have need for protection and assistance, but who cannot be found to be fully incompetent, upon investigation by the court or any agency jointly designated by the mental health board and mental retardation board (or county social service administrative board where applicable) of the county where such person resides. After considering all evidence presented as a result of such investigation, the court shall impose, by order, only such specific limitations and disabilities on a disabled person to be placed under a limited guardianship as the court finds necessary for such person's protection and assistance. A person shall not be presumed to be incompetent nor shall a person lose any legal rights or suffer any legal disabilities as the result of being placed under a limited guardianship, except as to those rights and disabilities specifically set forth in the court order establishing such a limited guardianship. In addition, the court order shall state the period of time for which it shall be applicable.

For the purposes of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW the term "disabled person" includes, but is not limited to, an individual who is mentally retarded, mentally ill, developmentally disabled, or is gravely disabled.

Sec. 3. Section 11.88.020, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 4, chapter 28, Laws of 1971 and RCW 11.88.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Any suitable person over the age of eighteen years, or any parent under the age of eighteen years may, if not otherwise disqualified, be appointed guardian or limited guardian of the person and/or the estate of an incompetent or disabled person; any trust company regularly organized under the laws of this state and national banks when authorized to do so may act as guardian or limited guardian of the estate of an incompetent or disabled person; and any nonprofit corporation may act as guardian or limited guardian of the person and/or estate of an incompetent or disabled person if the articles of incorporation or bylaws of such corporation permit such action and such corporation is in compliance with all applicable provisions of Title 24 RCW. No person is qualified to serve as a domiciliary guardian who is

- (1) under eighteen years of age except as otherwise provided herein;
- (2) of unsound mind;
- (3) convicted of a felony or of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude;
- (4) a nonresident of this state who has not appointed a resident agent to accept service of process in all actions or proceedings with respect to the estate and caused such appointment to be filed with the court;
- (5) a corporation not authorized to act as a fiduciary, guardian, or limited guardian in the state;
- (6) a person whom the court finds unsuitable.

Sec. 4. Section 11.88.030, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.030 are each amended to read as follows:

Any interested person or entity may file a petition for the appointment of himself or some other qualified person, trust company, national bank, or nonprofit corporation authorized in RCW 11.88.020 as now or hereafter amended as the guardian or limited guardian of an incompetent or disabled person. ((Such)) A petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall state:

- (1) The name, age, residence and post office address of the incompetent or disabled person;
- (2) The nature of his ((incompetency)) alleged incompetency in accordance with RCW 11.88.010;
- (3) The approximate value and description of his property, including any compensation, pension, insurance or allowance to which he may be entitled.

[396]

- (4) Whether there is, in any state, a guardian or limited guardian for the person or estate of the alleged incompetent or disabled person;
- (5) The residence and post office address of the person whom petitioner asks to be appointed guardian or limited guardian;

(6) The names and addresses, so far as known or can be reasonably ascertained, of the persons most closely related by blood or marriage to the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

(7) The name and address of the person or institution having the care and custody of the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

(8) The reason why the appointment of a guardian or limited guardian is sought and the interest of the petitioner in the appointment, and whether the appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian of the person, the estate, or both;

(9) The nature and degree of the alleged disability and the specific areas of protection and assistance requested and the limitation of rights requested to be included in the court's order of appointment;

(10) The requested term of the limited guardianship to be included in the court's order of appointment: PROVIDED, That no filing fee shall be charged by the court for filing either a petition for guardianship or a petition for limited guardianship unless the alleged incompetent or disabled person has an estate valued in excess of fifteen hundred dollars.

All petitions filed under the provisions of this section shall be heard within thirty days.

Sec. 5. Section 11.88.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 1, chapter 70, Laws of 1969 and RCW 11.88.040 are each amended to read as follows:

Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be given personally to the alleged incompetent or disabled person, if over fourteen years of age.

Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be given by registered or certified mail requesting a return receipt signed by the addressee only, or by personal service in the manner provided for services of summons, to the following:

- (1) The alleged incompetent, disabled person, or minor, if ((over)) under fourteen years of age;
- (2) A parent, if the alleged incompetent or disabled person is a minor, and the spouse of the alleged incompetent or disabled person if any;
- (3) Any other person who has been appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or the person ((having the care and custody of the incompetent if any)) with whom the alleged incompetent or disabled person resides. No notice need be given to those persons named in subsections (2) and (3) of this section if they have signed the petition for the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian or have waived notice of the hearing. If the petition is by a parent asking for his appointment as guardian or limited guardian of a minor child under the age of fourteen years, or if the petition be accompanied by the written consent of a minor of the age of fourteen years or upward, consenting to the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian asked for, or if the petition be by a nonresident guardian of any minor or incompetent or disabled person, then the court may appoint the guardian without notice of the hearing. The court for good cause may reduce the number of days of notice, but in every case, at least three days notice shall be given. (It shall not be necessary that the person for whom guardianship is sought shall be represented by a guardian ad litem in the proceedings.)

In all guardianship and limited guardianship hearings the alleged incompetent or disabled person shall be present in court at the final hearing on the petition. If the petition for guardianship or limited guardianship states that the alleged incompetent or disabled person is physically unable to be present, the guardian ad litem may request the court to waive the requirement of the presence of the alleged incompetent at the hearing or the court may remove itself to the place of residence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person and conduct the final hearing in the presence of the alleged incompetent or disabled person.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 6. There is added to chapter 11.88 RCW a new section to read as follows:

The person appointed by the court as either guardian or limited guardian of the person and/or estate of an incompetent or disabled person, shall file in writing with the court, a designated stand-by limited guardian or guardian to serve as limited guardian or guardian at the death of the court-appointed guardian or limited guardian. Such stand-by guardian or limited guardian shall have all the powers, duties, and obligations of the regularly appointed guardian or limited guardian and in addition shall, within a period of thirty days from the death of the regularly appointed guardian or limited guardian, file with the superior court in which the original guardianship or limited guardianship was filed, a petition for appointment of a substitute guardian or limited guardian. Upon the court's appointment of a new, substitute guardian or limited guardian, the stand-by guardian shall make an accounting and report to be approved by the court, and upon approval of the court, the stand-by guardian or limited guardian shall be released from all duties and obligations arising from or out of the guardianship or limited guardianship.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 7. There is added to chapter 11.88 RCW a new section to read as follows:

An alleged incompetent or disabled person is entitled to independent legal counsel at his own expense to represent him in the procedure. PROVIDED, That if the alleged incompetent or disabled person is unable to pay for such representation or should such payment result in substantial hardship upon such person the county shall be responsible for such costs. The alleged incompetent or disabled person is further entitled upon request to a jury trial on the issues of his alleged incompetency or disability, with the standard of proof to be applied being that of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

In all proceedings for appointment of a guardian or limited guardian, the court must be presented with a sworn medical report pertaining to the alleged incompetent or disabled persons' degree of incompetency or disability: PROVIDED, That the court may waive the filing of a sworn medical report.

NEW SECTION, Sec. 8. There is added to chapter 11.88 RCW a new section to read as follows:

Every petition for guardianship or limited guardianship, the grounds for which allege incompetency or disability as a result of mental illness or mental retardation, shall be referred by the court to an agency to be designated and paid for by the local mental health board and the local mental retardation board (or county social service administrative board where applicable) for an impartial investigation and report relating to the degree of incompetency or disability, the appropriateness of the petition for guardian or limited guardian, and the limits to be placed upon the disabled person should a limited guardianship be ordered. The investigation and report shall be made and forwarded to the court, with copies to the alleged incompetent or disabled person and the petitioner, within twenty days after reference to the agency by the court.

Sec. 9. Section 11.88.090, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Nothing contained in RCW 11.88.080 through 11.88.120, 11.92.010 through 11.92.040, 11.92.060 through 11.92.120, 11.92.170, and 11.92.180, as now or hereafter amended, shall affect or impair the power of any court to appoint a guardian to defend the interests of any incompetent person interested in any suit or matter pending therein, or to commence and prosecute any suit in his behalf.

Upon receipt of a petition for appointment of guardian or limited guardian, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem, who may be a person recommended by either the local mental health board or mental retardation board (or county social service administrative board where applicable), to represent the interests of the alleged incompetent or disabled person in response to any petition for guardianship or limited guardianship. The appointment of a guardian ad litem shall have no effect on the legal competency of the alleged incompetent or disabled person and such appointment shall not overcome the presumption of competency or full legal and civil rights of the alleged incompetent or disabled person.

The court appointed guardian ad litem shall have the authority, in the event that the alleged incompetent or disabled person is in need of emergency and life-saving medical services, and is unable to consent to such medical services due to incapacity pending the hearing on the petition to give consent for such emergency and life-saving medical services on behalf of the alleged incompetent or disabled person.

Sec. 10. Section 11.88.100, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Before letters of guardianship are issued, each guardian or limited guardian shall take and subscribe an oath and, unless dispensed with by order of the court as provided in RCW 11.88.105, file a bond, with sureties to be approved by the court, payable to the state, in such sum as the court may fix, taking into account the character of the assets on hand or anticipated and the income to be received and disbursements to be made, and such bond shall be conditioned substantially as follows:

The condition of this obligation is such, that if the above bound A.B., who has been appointed guardian or limited guardian for C.D., shall faithfully discharge the office and trust of such guardian or limited guardian according to law and shall render a fair and just account of his guardianship or limited guardianship to the superior court of the county of from time to time as he shall thereto be required by such court, and comply with all orders of the court, lawfully made, relative to the goods, chattels, moneys, care, management, and education of such incompetent or disabled person, or his or her property, and render and pay to such incompetent or disabled person all moneys, goods, chattels, title papers, and effects which may come into the hands or possession of such guardian or limited guardian, at such time and in such manner as the court may order or adjudge, then this obligation shall be void, otherwise to be and remain in full force and effect.

The bond shall be for the use of the incompetent or disabled person, and shall not become void upon the first recovery, but may be put in suit from time to time against all or any one of the obligors, in the name and for the use and benefit of any person entitled by the breach thereof, until the whole penalty is recovered thereon. The court may require an additional bond whenever for any reason it appears to the court that an additional bond should be given.

In all guardianships or limited guardianships of the person, and in all guardianship or limited guardianships of the estate, in which the inventory filed with the court shows that the incompetent or disabled person has total accumulated assets of a value of less than fifteen hundred dollars, the court may dispense with the requirement of a bond: PROVIDED, That the guardian or limited guardian shall swear to report to the court any changes in the accumulated assets of the incompetent or disabled person increasing their value to over fifteen hundred dollars: PROVIDED FURTHER, That said guardian or limited guardian shall file a yearly statement showing the monthly income of the incompetent or disabled person if said monthly income is over the sum of two hundred fifty dollars per month for any three consecutive months.

Sec. 11. Section 11.88.105, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.105 are each amended to read as follows:

In cases where all or a portion of the estate consisting of cash or securities or both, has been placed in possession of savings and loan associations or banks, trust companies, escrow corporations, or other corporations approved by the court and a receipt is filed by the guardian or limited guardian in court therefor stating that such corporations hold the same subject to order of court then in such case the court may in its discretion dispense with the giving of a bond or reduce the same by the amount of such deposits of cash or securities, and may order that no further reports by said guardian or limited guardian be required until such time as the guardian or limited guardian desires to withdraw such funds or change the investment thereof.

Sec. 12. Section 11.88.107, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.107 are each amended to read as follows:

In all cases where a bank or trust company, authorized to act as guardian or limited guardian, is appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or acts as guardian or limited guardian under an appointment as such heretofore made, no bond shall be required.

Sec. 13. Section 11.88.110, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.110 are each amended to read as follows:

All the provisions of this title relative to bonds given by executors and administrators shall apply to bonds given by guardians or limited guardians.

Sec. 14. Section 11.88.120, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.120 are each amended to read as follows:

The court in all cases shall have power to remove guardians or limited guardians for good and sufficient reasons, which shall be entered of record, and to appoint others in their place or in the place of those who may die, who shall give bond and security for the faithful discharge of their duties as prescribed in RCW 11.88.100 as now or hereafter amended; and when any guardian or limited guardian shall be removed or die, and a successor be appointed, the court shall have power to compel such guardian or limited guardian removed to deliver up to such successor all goods, chattels, moneys, title papers, or other effects belonging to such incompetent or disabled person, which may be in the possession of such guardian or limited guardian so removed, or of the personal representatives of a deceased guardian, or in the possession of any other person or persons, or in the possession of a stand-by guardian or limited guardian and upon failure, to commit the party offending to prison, until he complies with the order of the court.

Sec. 15. Section 11.88.130, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.130 are each amended to read as follows:

The court of any county having jurisdiction of any guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding is authorized to transfer jurisdiction and venue of the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding to the court of any other county of the state upon application of the guardian or limited guardian and such notice to an alleged incompetent or disabled person or other interested party as the court may require. Such transfers of guardianship or limited guardianship proceedings shall be made to the court of a county wherein either the guardian or limited guardian or alleged incompetent or disabled person resides, as the court may deem appropriate, at the time of making application for such transfer. The original order providing for any such transfer shall be retained as a permanent record by the clerk of the court in which such order is entered, and a certified copy thereof together with the original file in such guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding and a certified transcript of all record entries up to and including the order for such change shall be transmitted to the clerk of the court to which such proceeding is transferred.

Sec. 16. Section 11.88.140, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.140 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) TERMINATION WITHOUT COURT ORDER. A guardianship or limited guardianship is terminated

(a) Upon the attainment of full and legal age, as defined in RCW 11.92.010 as now or hereafter amended, of any person defined as an incompetent or disabled person pursuant to RCW 11.88.010 as now or hereafter amended solely by reason of youth, RCW 26.28.020 to the contrary notwithstanding.

(b) By an adjudication of competency.

(c) By the death of the incompetent or disabled person.

[401]

(2) TERMINATION ON COURT ORDER. A guardianship or limited guardianship may be terminated by court order after such notice as the court may require.

(a) If the guardianship or limited guardianship is of the estate and the estate is exhausted;

(b) If the guardianship or limited guardianship is no longer necessary for any other reason.

(3) EFFECT OF TERMINATION. When a guardianship or limited guardianship terminates otherwise than by the death of the incompetent or disabled person, the powers of the guardian or limited guardian cease, except that a guardian or limited guardian of the estate may make disbursements for claims that are or may be allowed by the court, for liabilities already properly incurred for the estate or for the incompetent or disabled person, and for expenses of administration. When a guardianship or limited guardianship terminates by death of the incompetent or disabled person, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate may proceed under RCW 11.88.150 as now or hereafter amended, but the rights of all creditors against the incompetent's or disabled person's estate shall be determined by the law of decedent's estates.

Sec. 17, Section 11.88.150, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.88.150 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the death of an incompetent or disabled person intestate the guardian or limited guardian of his estate has power under the letters issued to him and subject to the direction of the court to administer the estate as the estate of the deceased incompetent or disabled person without further letters unless within forty days after death of the incompetent or disabled person a petition is filed for letters of administration or for letters testamentary and the petition is granted. If the guardian or limited guardian elects to administer the estate under his letters of guardianship or limited guardianship, he shall petition the court for an order transferring the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding to a probate proceeding, and upon court approval, the clerk of the court shall re-index the cause as a decedent's estate, using the same file number which is assigned to the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding. The guardian or limited guardian shall then be authorized to continue administration of the estate without the necessity for any further petition or hearing. Notice to creditors and other persons interested in the estate shall be published and may be combined with the notice of the guardian's or limited guardian's final account. This notice shall be published in the manner provided in RCW 11.40.010, once each week for three successive weeks, with proof by affidavit of the publication of such notice to be filed with the court. All claims which are not filed within four months after first publication shall be barred against the estate. Upon the hearing, the account may be allowed and the balance distributed to the persons entitled thereto, after the payment of such claims as may be allowed. Liability on the guardian's or limited guardian's bond shall continue until exonerated on settlement of his account, and may apply to the complete administration of the estate of the deceased incompetent or disabled person with the consent of the surety. If letters of administration or letters testamentary are granted upon petition filed within forty days after the death of the incompetent or disabled person, the personal representative shall supersede the guardian or limited guardian in the administration of the estate and the estate shall be administered as a decedent's estate as provided in this title, including the publication of notice to creditors and other interested persons and the barring of creditors claims.

Sec. 18, Section 11.92.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 5, chapter 28, Laws of 1971 and RCW 11.92.010 are each amended to read as follows:

Guardians or limited guardians herein provided for shall at all times be under the general direction and control of the court making the appointment. For the purposes of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW, all persons shall be of full and legal age when they shall be eighteen years old.

Sec. 19, Section 11.92.035, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.035 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) DUTY OF GUARDIAN TO PAY. A guardian of the estate is under a duty to pay from the estate all just claims against the estate of his incompetent, whether they constitute liabilities of the incompetent which arose prior to the guardianship or liabilities properly incurred by the guardian for the benefit of the incompetent or his estate and whether arising in contract or in tort or otherwise, upon allowance of the claim by the court or upon approval of the court in a settlement of the guardian's accounts. The duty of the guardian to pay from the estate shall not preclude his personal liability for his own contracts and acts made and performed on behalf of the estate as it exists according to the common law. If it appears that the estate is likely to be exhausted before all existing claims are paid, preference shall be given to prior claims for the care, maintenance and education of the incompetent and of his dependents and existing claims for expenses of administration over other claims.

(2) CLAIMS MAY BE PRESENTED. Any person having a claim against the estate of an incompetent, or against the guardian of his estate as such, may file a written claim with the court for determination at any time before it is barred by the statute of limitations, and, upon proof thereof, procure an order for its allowance and payment from the estate. Any action against the guardian of the estate as such shall be deemed a claim duly filed.

(3) DUTY OF LIMITED GUARDIAN TO PAY. Claims against a limited guardianship estate shall be paid by the limited guardian only to the extent specified in the order appointing the limited guardian.

Sec. 20, Section 11.92.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.040 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the guardian and limited guardian

(1) To make out and file within three months after his appointment a verified inventory of all the property of the incompetent or disabled person which shall come to his possession or knowledge, including a statement of all encumbrances, liens, and other secured charges on any item.

(2) (Unless otherwise directed by the court, to file with the court annually within thirty days after the anniversary date of his appointment, and also within thirty days after termination of his appointment, a written verified account of his administration.) To file annually, within thirty days after the anniversary date of his appointment, and also within thirty days after termination of his appointment, a written verified account of his administration: PROVIDED, That the court in its discretion may allow such reports at intervals of up to thirty-six months, with instruction to the guardian or limited guardian that any substantial increase in income or assets of substantial change in the incompetent's or disabled person's condition shall be reported within thirty days of such substantial increase or change.

(3) If he is a guardian or limited guardian of the person, to care for and maintain the incompetent, and if the incompetent or disabled person is a minor, to see that the incompetent or disabled person is properly trained and educated and that the incompetent or disabled person has the opportunity to learn a trade, occupation or profession. The guardian or limited guardian of the person may be required to report the condition of his incompetent or disabled person to the court, at regular intervals or otherwise as the court may direct.

(4) If he is a guardian or limited guardian of the estate, to protect and preserve it, to apply it as provided in this chapter, to account for it faithfully, to perform all of the duties required of him by law, and at the termination of the guardianship or limited guardianship, to deliver the assets of the incompetent or disabled person to the persons entitled thereto. Except as provided to the contrary herein, the court may authorize a guardian or limited guardian to do anything that a trustee can do under the provisions of RCW 30.39.070 for periods not exceeding one year from the date of the order.

(5) To invest and reinvest the property of the incompetent or disabled person in accordance with the rules applicable to investment of trust estates by trustees as provided in chapter 30.24 RCW, except that:

(a) No investments shall be made without prior order of the court in any property other than unconditional interest bearing obligations of this state or of the United States and in obligations the interest and principal of which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States, and in share accounts or deposits which are insured by an agency of the United States government. Such prior order of the court may authorize specific investments, or, in the discretion of the court, may authorize the guardian or limited guardian during a period of not exceeding one year following the date of the order to invest and reinvest as provided in chapter 30.24 RCW without further order of the court.

(b) If it is for the best interests of the incompetent or disabled person that a specific property be used by the incompetent or disabled person rather than, sold and the proceeds invested, the court may so order.

(6) To apply to the court for an order authorizing any disbursement on behalf of the incompetent or disabled person; provided, however, that the guardian or limited guardian of the estate, or the person, department, bureau, agency or charitable organization having the care and custody of an incompetent or disabled person, may apply to the court for an order directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to pay to the person, department, bureau, agency or charitable organization having the care and custody of an incompetent or disabled person, or if the guardian or limited guardian of the estate has the care and custody of the incompetent or disabled person, directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to apply an amount weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually, as the court may direct, to be expended in the care, maintenance and education of the incompetent or disabled person and of his dependents. In proper cases, the court may order payment of amounts directly to the incompetent or disabled person for his maintenance or incidental expenses. The amounts authorized under this section may be decreased or increased from time to time by direction of the court. If payments are made to another under such order of the court, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate is not bound to see to the application thereof.

Sec. 21. Section 11.92.050, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.050 are each amended to read as follows:

Upon the filing of any intermediate guardianship or limited guardianship account required by statute, or of any intermediate account required by court rule or order, the guardian or limited guardian may petition the court for an order settling his account with regard to any and all receipts, expenditures and investments made and acts done by the guardian or limited guardian to the date of said interim report. Upon such petition being filed, the court may in its discretion, where the size or condition of the estate warrants it, set a date for the hearing of such petition and require the service of the petition and a notice of such hearing as provided in RCW 11.88.040 as now or hereafter amended; and, in the event such a hearing be ordered, the court shall also appoint a guardian ad litem, whose duty it shall be to investigate the report of the guardian or limited guardian of the estate and to advise the court thereon at said hearing in writing. At such hearing on said report of the guardian or limited guardian, if the court be satisfied that the actions of the guardian or limited guardian have been proper, and that the guardian or limited guardian has in all respects discharged his trust with relation to such receipts, expenditures, investments, and acts, then, in such event, the court shall enter an order approving such account, and such order shall be final and binding upon the incompetent or disabled person, subject only to the right of appeal as upon a final order; provided that at the time of final account of said guardian or limited guardian or within one year after said incompetent or disabled person attains his majority any such interim account may be challenged by said incompetent or disabled person on the ground of fraud.

Sec. 22. Section 11.92.056, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.056 are each amended to read as follows:

If, at any hearing upon a petition to settle the account of any guardian or limited guardian, it shall appear to the court that said guardian or limited guardian has not fully accounted or that said account should not be settled, the court may continue said hearing to a day certain and may cite the surety or sureties upon the bond of said guardian or limited guardian to appear upon the date fixed in said citation and show cause why the account should not be disapproved and judgment entered for any deficiency against said guardian or limited guardian and the surety or sureties upon his or her bond. Said citation shall be personally served upon said surety or sureties in the manner provided by law for the service of summons in civil actions and shall be served not less than twenty days previous to said hearing. At said hearing any interested party, including the surety so cited, shall have the right to introduce any evidence which shall be material to the matter before the court. If, at said hearing, the final account of said guardian or limited guardian shall not be approved and the court shall find that said guardian or limited guardian is indebted to the incompetent or disabled person in any amount, said court may thereupon enter final judgment against said guardian or limited guardian and the surety or sureties upon his or her bond, which judgment shall be enforceable in the same manner and to the same extent as judgments in ordinary civil actions.

Sec. 23. Section 11.92.060, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.060 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) GUARDIAN MAY SUE AND BE SUED. When there is a guardian of the estate, all actions between the incompetent or the guardian and third persons in which it is sought to charge or benefit the estate of the incompetent shall be prosecuted by or against the guardian of the estate as such. He shall represent the interests of the incompetent in the action and all process shall be served on him.

(2) JOINDER, AMENDMENT AND SUBSTITUTION. When the guardian of the estate is under personal liability for his own contracts and acts made and performed on behalf of the estate he may be sued both as guardian and in his personal capacity in the same action. Mistakenly or the bringing of the action by or against the incompetent shall not be grounds for dismissal of the action and leave to amend or substitute shall be freely granted. If an action was commenced by or against the incompetent before the appointment of a guardian of his estate, such guardian when appointed may be substituted as a party for the incompetent. If the appointment of the guardian of the estate is terminated, his successor may be substituted; if the incompetent dies, his personal representative may be substituted; if the incompetent becomes competent, he may be substituted.

(3) GARNISHMENT, ATTACHMENT AND EXECUTION. When there is a guardian of the estate, the property and rights of action of the incompetent shall not be subject to garnishment or attachment, except for the foreclosure of a mortgage or other lien, and execution shall not issue to obtain satisfaction of any judgment against the incompetent or the guardian of his estate as such.

(4) COMPROMISE BY GUARDIAN. Whenever it is proposed to compromise or settle any claim by or against the incompetent or the guardian as such, whether arising as a result of personal injury or otherwise, and whether arising before or after appointment of a guardian, the court on petition of the guardian of the estate, if satisfied that such compromise or settlement will be for the best interests of the incompetent, may enter an order authorizing the settlement or compromise be made.

(5) LIMITED GUARDIAN. Limited guardians may serve and be served with process or actions on behalf of the disabled person, but only to the extent provided for in the court order appointing a limited guardian.

Sec. 24. Section 11.92.090, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.090 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever it shall appear to the satisfaction of a court by the petition of any guardian or limited guardian, that it is necessary or proper to sell, exchange, lease, mortgage, or grant an easement, license or similar interest in any of the real or personal property of the estate of such incompetent or disabled person for the purpose of paying debts or for the care, support and education of such incompetent or disabled person, or to redeem any property of such incompetent's or disabled person's estate covered by mortgage or other lien, or for the purpose of making any investments, or for any other purpose which to the court may seem right and proper, the court may make an order directing such sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, or grant of easement, license or similar interest of such part or parts of the real or personal property as shall to the court seem proper.

Sec. 25. Section 11.92.100, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.100 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The value and character of all personal estate belonging to such incompetent or disabled person that has come to the knowledge or possession of such guardian or limited guardian.

(2) The disposition of such personal estate.

(3) The amount and condition of the incompetent's or disabled person's personal estate, if any, dependent upon the settlement of any estate, or the execution of any trust.

(4) The annual income of the real estate of the incompetent or disabled person.

(5) The amount of rent received and the application thereof.

(6) The proposed manner of reinvesting the proceeds of the sale, if asked for that purpose.

(7) Each item of indebtedness, or the amount and character of the lien, if the sale is prayed for the liquidation thereof.

(8) The age of the incompetent or disabled person, where and with whom residing.

(9) All other facts connected with the estate and condition of the incompetent or disabled person necessary to enable the court to fully understand the same. If there is no personal estate belonging to such incompetent or disabled person in possession or expectancy, and none has come into the hands of such guardian or limited guardian, and no rents have been received, the fact shall be stated in the application.

Sec. 26. Section 11.92.110, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.110 are each amended to read as follows:

The order directing the sale of any of the real property of the estate of such incompetent or disabled person shall specify the particular property affected and the method, whether by public or private sale or by negotiation, and terms thereof, and with regard to the procedure and notices to be employed in conducting such sale, the provisions of RCW 11.56.060, 11.56.070, 11.56.080, and 11.56.110 shall be followed unless the court otherwise directs.

The guardian or limited guardian making any sale of real estate, either at public or private sale or sale by negotiation, shall within ten days after making such sale file with the clerk of the court his return of such sale, the same being duly verified. At any time after the expiration of ten days from the filing of such return, the court may, without notice, approve and confirm such sale and direct proper instruments of transfer to be executed and delivered. Upon the confirmation of any such sale, the court shall direct the guardian or limited guardian to make, execute and deliver instruments conveying the title to the person to whom such property may be sold and such instruments of conveyance shall be deemed to convey all the estate, rights and interest of the incompetent or disabled person and of his estate. In the case of a sale by negotiation the guardians or limited guardians shall publish a notice in one issue of a legal newspaper published in the county in which the estate is being administered; the substance of such notice shall include the legal description of the property sold, the selling price and the date after which the sale may be confirmed. PROVIDED, That such confirmation date shall be at least ten days after such notice is published.

Sec. 28. Section 11.92.120, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.120 are each amended to read as follows:

No sale by any guardian or limited guardian of real or personal property shall be void or be set aside or be attacked because of any irregularities whatsoever, and none of the steps leading up to such sale or the confirmation thereof shall be jurisdictional, and the confirmation by the court of any such sale shall be conclusive as to the regularity and legality of such sale or sales, and the passing of title after confirmation by the court shall vest an absolute title in the purchaser, and such instrument of transfer may not be attacked for any purpose or any reason, except for fraud.

Sec. 29. Section 11.92.130, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 and RCW 11.92.130 are each amended to read as follows:

When a state highway is relocated and the old route is abandoned, and the new route crosses land owned by a person who owns land abutting on the old route, the Washington state highway commission may agree with the owner to convey to him title to the old route or a part thereof as all or part consideration for his land to be taken for the new route.

Whenever the state has abandoned any highway rights of way, pit sites, stock pile sites or owns land not needed for highway purposes, the Washington state highway commission may sell same to abutting owners for the fair market value or exchange with any person as a consideration or part consideration for lands or property rights needed by the state, or may sell same by public auction whenever it is deemed in the public interest to do so: PROVIDED, That whenever the commission finds that it is in the public interest to sell such property to an abutting private owner and there are two or more abutting owners, the commission shall sell the same only by public auction unless every abutting owner but one signs a statement signifying he does not intend to bid on or purchase such property.

The Washington state highway commission shall certify the agreement to the ((governor)) director of highways with a description of the property to be conveyed, and the ((governor may execute and the secretary of state shall attest)) director of highways shall execute the deed which shall be duly acknowledged and deliver it to the grantee.

AN ACT Relating to social and health services; amending section 11, page 364, Laws of 1854 as last amended by chapter 101 of 1901 and chapter 161 of 1907; and chapter 161 of 1907 as amended by chapter 161 of 1907 and chapter 161 of 1907.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington

NEW SECTION. Section 1. It is the purpose of the legislature in enacting this 1977 amendatory act to provide for a comprehensive revision of out-dated and offensive language, procedures and assumptions that have previously been used to identify and categorize mentally, physically, and sensory handicapped citizens. It is legislative intent that language references such as idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded or defective persons be deleted and replaced with more appropriate references to reflect current statute law more recently enacted by the federal government and this legislature. It is legislative belief that use of the undefined term "insanity" be avoided in preference to the use of a process for defining incompetency or disability as fully set forth in chapter 11.88 RCW; that language that has allowed or implied a presumption of incompetency or disability on the basis of an apparent condition or appearance be deleted in favor of a reference to necessary due process allowing a judicial determination of the existence or lack of existence of such incompetency or disability.

Sec. 2. Section 11, page 364, Laws of 1884 as last amended by section 74, chapter 292, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 4.16.190 are each amended to read as follows:

If a person entitled to bring an action mentioned in this chapter, except for a penalty or forfeiture, or against a sheriff or other officer, for an escape, be at the time the cause of action accrued either under the age of eighteen years, or (if same) incompetent or disabled to such a degree that he or she cannot understand the nature of the proceedings, such incompetency or disability as determined according to chapter 11.88 RCW, or imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution under the sentence of a court for a term less than his natural life, the time of such disability shall not be a part of the time limited for the commencement of action.

Sec. 3. Section 290, page 186, Laws of 1854 as last amended by section 1, chapter 84, Laws of 1927 and RCW 5.60.030 are each amended to read as follows:

No person offered as a witness shall be excluded from giving evidence by reason of his or her interest in the event of the action, as a party thereto or otherwise, but such interest may be shown to affect his or her credibility: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That in an action or proceeding where the adverse party sues or defends as executor, administrator or legal representative of any deceased person, or as deriving right or title by, through or from any deceased person, or as the guardian or (conservator) limited guardian of the estate or person of any (insane) incompetent or disabled person, or of any minor under the age of fourteen years, then a party in interest or to the record, shall not be admitted to testify in his or her own behalf as to any transaction had by him or her with, or any statement made to him or her, or in his or her presence, by any such deceased (or insane), incompetent or disabled person, or by any such minor under the age of fourteen years: PROVIDED FURTHER, That this exclusion shall not apply to parties of record who sue or defend in a representative or fiduciary capacity, and have no other or further interest in the action.

Sec. 4. Section 26, chapter 64, Laws of 1895 and RCW 6.12.300 are each amended to read as follows:

In case of a homestead, if either the husband or wife shall be or become ((hopelessly insane)) incompetent or disabled to such a degree that he or she is unable to assist in the management of his or her interest in the marital property, upon application of the husband or wife not ((insane)) so incompetent or disabled to the superior court of the county in which the homestead is situated, and upon due proof of such ((insanity)) incompetency or disability in the severity required above, the court may make an order permitting the husband or wife ((not insane)) applying to the court to sell and convey or mortgage such homestead.

Sec. 5. Section 27, chapter 64, Laws of 1895 and RCW 6.12.310 are each amended to read as follows:

Notice of the application for such order shall be given by publication of the same in a newspaper published in the county in which such homestead is situated, if there be a newspaper published therein, once each week for three successive weeks prior to the hearing of such application, and a copy of such notice shall be served upon the alleged incompetent husband or wife personally, and upon the nearest ((mate)) relative of such ((insane)) incompetent or disabled husband or wife other than the applicant, resident in this state, at least three weeks prior to such application being heard, and in case there be no such ((mate)) relative known to the applicant, a copy of such notice shall be served upon the prosecuting attorney of the county in which such homestead is situated; and it is hereby made the duty of such prosecuting attorney, upon being served with a copy of such notice, to appear in court and see that such application is made in good faith, and that the proceedings thereon are fairly conducted.

Sec. 6. Section 28, chapter 64, Laws of 1895 and RCW 6.12.320 are each amended to read as follows:

Sec. 7. Section 5, chapter 11, Laws of 1893 as amended by section 7, chapter 292, Laws of 1971 ex. sess. and RCW 7.28.090 are each amended to read as follows:

RCW 7.28.070 and 7.28.080 shall not extend to lands or tenements owned by the United States or this state, nor to school lands, nor to lands held for any public purpose. Nor shall they extend to lands or tenements when there shall be an adverse title to such lands or tenements, and the holder of such adverse title is a person under eighteen years of age, or ((insane)) incompetent within the meaning of RCW 11.88.010: PROVIDED, Such persons as aforesaid shall commence an action to recover such lands or tenements so possessed as aforesaid, within three years after the several disabilities herein enumerated shall cease to exist, and shall prosecute such action to judgment, or in case of vacant and unoccupied land shall, within the time last aforesaid, pay to the person or persons who have paid the same for his or her betterments, and the taxes, with interest on said taxes at the legal rate per annum that have been paid on said vacant and unimproved land.

(1) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over, the application shall be voluntarily made by the person;

(2) In the case of a person thirteen years of age or under, the application may be voluntarily made by his parents, or by the parent, ((conservator)) limited guardian as authorized, guardian, or other person entitled to his custody. When such person is more than thirteen years of age, such application must be accompanied by the written consent, knowingly and voluntarily given, of the minor. All such voluntary applications to a public agency shall be reviewed by the county mental health professionals, who shall submit a written report and evaluation with recommendations to the superintendent of such facility to which such application is made stating whether treatment is necessary and proper on a voluntary basis and evaluating the reasons for voluntary commitment. Such person's condition and status shall be reviewed by the professional person in charge of the facility or his designee at least once each one hundred eighty days. A person under eighteen years of age received into a public facility as a voluntary patient shall not be retained after he reaches eighteen years of age, but such person, upon reaching eighteen years of age, may apply for admission into a public or private facility as a voluntary patient.

(3) No minor over thirteen years of age shall be involuntarily committed to a state or private facility for care and treatment as mentally disordered, or for observation as to the existence of mental disorder, except in accordance with the following requirements:

(b) A petition shall be filed with the juvenile court by the person's parent, parent, ((conservator)) limited guardian as authorized, guardian, or by the juvenile court itself. The petition shall set forth the reasons why commitment is necessary and what alternative courses of treatment have been explored. The juvenile court shall then conduct a hearing, at which the person under eighteen years of age shall be represented by an attorney, to determine whether commitment is clearly in the best interests of the person sought to be committed, and that no less restrictive alternative exists: PROVIDED, That, if in the opinion of the designated county mental health professional a minor presents an imminent likelihood of serious harm to himself or others, he may be temporarily detained for up to seventy-two hours by a licensed facility pending petition to the juvenile court for further commitment.

(c) If the juvenile court determines that commitment is clearly necessary, it will issue an order approving such petition. If the juvenile court determines that a less restrictive alternative is desirable, it may order that alternatives be followed.

(d) If a person under the age of eighteen years is committed to a state or private facility pursuant to this section, the juvenile court recommending commitment shall require a report from the facility every one hundred eighty days that sets forth such facts as the juvenile court may require. If the juvenile court determines that further commitment is not clearly in the best interests of the patient, it shall order release upon such conditions as it deems necessary.

(e) Every person under the age of eighteen shall have all the rights provided for persons eighteen years of age or over under this chapter as now or hereafter amended except those rights specifically modified by this section: PROVIDED, That the juvenile court rather than the superior court shall be responsible for any proceedings. A voluntarily admitted minor over thirteen years of age shall have the right to release on the next judicial day from the date of request unless a petition is filed in juvenile court by the professional person in charge of the facility or his designee on the grounds that the juvenile is dangerous to himself or others or that it would be in the best interests of the juvenile that he remain in the facility. Furthermore, should the patient and his parent, parents, ((conservator)) limited guardian as authorized, or guardian both request his release, he shall be immediately released unless the professional person in charge of the facility objects immediately in writing to the juvenile court on the grounds that the person is dangerous to himself or others and that it would not be in the patient's best interests to be released. Should this occur, the juvenile court shall hold a hearing on the issue within five judicial days and determine whether the person should be released.

(f) Nothing in this section shall prohibit the professional person in charge of the facility in which the person is being treated from releasing him at any time when, in the opinion of said professional person, further commitment would no longer be in the best interests of the patient.

Whenever a person is released by the professional person in charge of a facility under this section, said person shall, in writing, notify the juvenile court which committed the person for treatment.

(4) In the case of a person eighteen years of age or over for whom a ((conservator)) limited guardian or guardian of the person has been appointed, such application shall be made by said ((conservator)) limited guardian or guardian, when so authorized by proper court order in the ((conservatorship)) limited guardianship or guardianship proceedings.

accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport inmates pursuant to this compact through any and all states party to this compact without interference.

(b) An inmate who escapes from an institution in which he is confined pursuant to this compact shall be deemed a fugitive from the sending state and from the state in which the institution is situated. In the case of an escape to a jurisdiction other than the sending or receiving state, the responsibility for institution of extradition proceedings shall be that of the sending state, but nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent or affect the activities of officers and agencies of any jurisdiction directed toward the apprehension and return of an escapee.

An actual withdrawal shall not take effect until two years after the notices provided in said statute have been sent. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the withdrawing state from its obligations assumed hereunder prior to the effective date of withdrawal. Before the effective date of withdrawal, a withdrawing state shall remove to its territory, at its own expense, such inmates as it may have confined pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

ARTICLE IX—Other Arrangements Unaffected

Nothing contained in this compact shall be construed to abrogate or impair any agreement or other arrangement which a party state may have with a non-party state for the confinement, rehabilitation or treatment of inmates nor to repeal any other laws of a party state authorizing the making of cooperative institutional arrangements.

ARTICLE X—Construction and Severability

The provisions of this compact shall be liberally construed and shall be severable. If any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 76. If any provision of this 1977 amendatory act, or its application to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of the provision to other persons or circumstances is not affected.

Passed the Senate May 4, 1977.

Passed the House May 16, 1977.

Approved by the Governor May 24, 1977, with the exception of sections 17, 18, 19 and 20 which are vetoed.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State May 24, 1977.

Note: Governor's explanation of partial veto is as follows:

"I am returning herewith, without my approval as to several sections, Substitute Senate Bill No. 2872 entitled:

"AN ACT Relating to social and health services."

In making much needed revisions in the law to eliminate language offensive to certain of our citizens, the legislature has inadvertently made substantial changes in the law relating to marriage by repelling, in section 17, 18, 19 and 20 of this bill, the basic prohibition to be set forth by affidavit of persons desiring to marry. These alterations go far beyond the intent of this bill and should be given close attention by the legislature at some future date.

For the foregoing reasons, I have determined to veto sections 17, 18, 19, and 20. With the exception of those sections, I have approved the remainder of Substantive Senate Bill No. 2872."

chapter 11.92 RCW; and repealing section 8, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.83.035.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Section 1. Section 1, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.005 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent and purpose of the legislature to recognize that (incompetent, retarded, developmentally disabled, or other allegedly mentally incompetent) disabled persons have special and unique abilities and competencies with varying degrees of disability.

Such persons must be legally protected without the necessity for determination of total incompetency and without the attendant deprivation of civil and legal rights that such a determination requires.

Sec. 2. Section 11.88.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 2, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superior court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of incompetent persons (resident of the county), and guardians for the estates of all such persons who are nonresidents of the state but who have property in such county needing care and attention.

An "incompetent" is any person who is either:

(a) Under the age of majority, as defined in RCW 11.92.010, or
(b) Incompetent by reason of (incompetency) mental illness, (incompetency) developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, of either managing his property or caring for himself or both.

(2) The superior court for each county shall have power to appoint limited guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of disabled persons, who by reason of their disability have need for protection and assistance, but who cannot be found to be fully incompetent, upon investigation (by the court or any agency jointly designated by the mental health board and mental retardation board for county social service administrative board where applicable) of the county where such person resides) as provided by RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended. After considering all evidence presented as a result of such investigation, the court shall impose, by order, only such specific limitations and disabilities on a disabled person to be placed under a limited guardianship as the court finds necessary for such person's protection and assistance. A person shall not be presumed to be incompetent nor shall a person lose any legal rights or suffer any legal disabilities as the result of being placed under a limited guardianship, except as to those rights and disabilities specifically set forth in the court order establishing such a limited guardianship. In addition, the court order shall state the period of time for which it shall be applicable.

For the purposes of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW the term "disabled person" (includes, but is not limited to, an individual who is mentally retarded, mentally ill, developmentally disabled, or is gravely disabled) means an individual who is in need of protection and assistance by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, but cannot be found to be fully incompetent.

(3) Venue for petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall lie in the county wherein the alleged incompetent or disabled person is domiciled, or if such person is a resident of a state institution for developmentally disabled persons, in either the county wherein such institution is located, the county of domicile, or the county wherein a parent of the alleged incompetent or disabled person is domiciled.

Sec. 3. Section 11.88.030, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 4, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.030 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Any interested person or entity may file a petition for the appointment of himself or some other qualified person, trust company, national bank, or nonprofit corporation authorized in RCW 11.88.020 as now or hereafter amended as the guardian or limited guardian of an incompetent or disabled person. A petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall state:

((f3)) (a) The name, age, residence, and post office address of the incompetent or disabled person;

((f3)) (b) The nature of his alleged incompetency in accordance with RCW 11.88.010;

((f3)) (c) The approximate value and description of his property, including any compensation, pension, insurance, or allowance to which he may be entitled;

((f3)) (d) Whether there is, in any state, a guardian or limited guardian for the person or estate of the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

((f3)) (e) The residence and post office address of the person whom petitioner asks to be appointed guardian or limited guardian;

((f3)) (f) The names and addresses, and nature of the relationship, so far as known or can be reasonably ascertained, of the persons most closely related by blood or marriage to the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

((f3)) (g) The name and address of the person or institution having the care and custody of the alleged incompetent or disabled person;

((f3)) (h) The reason why the appointment of a guardian or limited guardian is sought and the interest of the petitioner in the appointment, and whether the appointment is sought as guardian or limited guardian of the person, the estate, or both;

((f3)) (i) The nature and degree of the alleged disability and the specific areas of protection and assistance requested and the limitation of rights requested to be included in the court's order of appointment;

((f3)) (j) The requested term of the limited guardianship to be included in the court's order of appointment (PROVIDED: That);

((f3)) (k) No filing fee shall be charged by the court for filing either a petition for guardianship or a petition for limited guardianship (unless) if the petitioner alleges that the alleged incompetent or disabled person has (an estate valued in excess of fifteen hundred) total assets of a value of less than three thousand dollars.

(3) All petitions filed under the provisions of this section shall be heard within (thirty) forty-five days unless an extension of time is requested by a party within such forty-five day period and granted for good cause shown.

Sec. 4. Section 11.88.040, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 5, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.040 are each amended to read as follows:

(3) In the absence of receipt of notice from the insured that coverage will not be continued with the existing insurer, an insurer whose agency contract has been terminated by an independent agent, or by the mutual agreement of the insurer and the agent, that elects to renew or lacks a reason not to renew, shall give the renewal notice required by chapter 48.18 RCW to affected insureds, and continue renewed coverage in accordance with the methods specified in subsection (2)(b) of this section. Agents affected by this subsection may provide the notice to an insurer that an insured does not intend to continue existing coverage with the insurer, after receiving written authority to do so from an insured.

(4) For purposes of this section an "independent agent" is a licensed insurance agent representing an insurer on an independent contractor basis and not as an employee. This term includes only those agents not obligated by contract to place insurance accounts with a particular insurer or group of insurers.

(5) This section does not apply to (a) agents or policies of an insurer or group of insurers if the business is not owned by the agent and the termination of any such contractual agreement does not result in the cancellation or nonrenewal of any policies of insurance; (b) general agents, to the extent that they are acting in that capacity; (c) life, disability, surety, ocean marine and foreign trade, and title insurance policies; (d) situations where the termination of the agency contract results from the insolvency or liquidation of the terminating insurer.

(6) No insurer may terminate its agency contract with an appointed agent unless it complies with this section.

(7) Nothing contained in this section excuses an insurer from giving cancellation and renewal notices that may be required by chapter 48.18 RCW.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. Section 1, chapter 286, Laws of 1986 and RCW 48.17.590 are each repealed.

[Substitute Senate Bill No. 6868]

GUARDIANSHIP

AN ACT Relating to guardianship; amending RCW 11.88.005, 11.88.010, 11.88.020, 11.88.030, 11.88.040, 11.88.045, 11.88.080, 11.88.090, 11.88.100, 11.88.105, 11.88.107, 11.88.120, 11.88.125, 11.88.130, 11.88.140, 11.88.150, 11.92.035, 11.92.040, 11.92.050, 11.92.053, 11.92.056, 11.92.060, 11.92.090, 11.92.100, 11.92.110, 11.92.115, 11.92.130, 11.92.140, 11.92.150, 11.92.160, 11.92.170, 11.92.180, and 11.92.185; adding new sections to chapter 11.88 RCW; adding new sections to chapter 11.92 RCW; and providing an effective date.

[852]

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

Sec. 1. Section 1, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 1, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.005 are each amended to read as follows:

It is the intent ((and purpose)) of the legislature to ((recognize that disabled persons have special and unique abilities and competencies with varying degrees of disability)) protect the liberty and autonomy of all people of this state, and to enable them to exercise their rights under the law to the maximum extent, consistent with the capacity of each person. The legislature recognizes that people with incapacities have unique abilities and needs, and that some people with incapacities cannot exercise their rights or provide for their basic needs without the help of a guardian. However, their liberty and autonomy should be restricted through the guardianship process only to the minimum extent necessary to adequately provide for their own health or safety, or to adequately manage their financial affairs.

((Such persons must be legally protected without the necessity for determination of total incompetency and without the attendant deprivation of civil and legal rights that such a determination requires.))

Sec. 2. Section 11.88.010, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 176, chapter 149, Laws of 1984 and RCW 11.88.010 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) The superior court of each county shall have power to appoint guardians for the persons and/or estates ((- or either thereof)) of ((incompetent)) incapacitated persons, and guardians for the estates of ((all such persons who are)) nonresidents of the state ((but)) who have property in ((such)) the county needing care and attention.

((A "incompetent" is any person who is either:

(a) Under the age of majority, as defined in RCW 11.92.010; or

(b) Incompetent by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity of either managing his property or caring for himself or both.))

(a) For purposes of this chapter, a person may be deemed incapacitated as to person when the superior court determines the individual has a significant risk of personal harm based upon a demonstrated inability to adequately provide for nutrition, health, housing, or physical safety.

(b) For purposes of this chapter, a person may be deemed incapacitated as to the person's estate when the superior court determines the individual is at significant risk of financial harm based upon a demonstrated inability to adequately manage property or financial affairs.

(c) A determination of incapacity is a legal not a medical decision, based upon a demonstration of management insufficiencies over time in the area of person or estate. Age, eccentricity, poverty, or medical diagnosis alone shall not be sufficient to justify a finding of incapacity.

(d) A person may also be determined incapacitated if he or she is under the age of majority as defined in RCW 26.28.010.

(e) For purposes of giving informed consent for health care pursuant to RCW 7.70.050 and 7.70.065, an "incompetent" person is any person who is (i) incompetent by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, of either managing his or her property or caring for himself or herself, or both, or (ii) incapacitated as defined in (a), (b), or (d) of this subsection.

(f) For purposes of the terms "incompetent," "disabled," or "not legally competent," as those terms are used in the Revised Code of Washington to apply to persons incapacitated under this chapter, those terms shall be interpreted to mean "incapacitated" persons for purposes of this chapter.

(2) The superior court for each county shall have power to appoint limited guardians for the persons and estates, or either thereof, of ((dis- abled)) incapacitated persons, who by reason of their ((disability)) incapac- ity have need for protection and assistance, but who ((cannot be found to be fully incompetent; upon investigation as provided by RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended)) are capable of managing some of their personal and financial affairs. After considering all evidence presented as a result of such investigation, the court shall impose, by order, only such specific limi- tations and ((disabilities)) restrictions on ((a disabled)) an incapacitated person to be placed under a limited guardianship as the court finds neces- sary for such person's protection and assistance. A person shall not be pre- sumed to be ((incompetent)) incapacitated nor shall a person lose any legal rights or suffer any legal disabilities as the result of being placed under a limited guardianship, except as to those rights and disabilities specifically set forth in the court order establishing such a limited guardianship. In ad- dition, the court order shall state the period of time for which it shall be applicable.

((For the purposes of chapters 11.88 and 11.92 RCW the term "dis- abled person" means an individual who is in need of protection and assis- tance by reason of mental illness, developmental disability, senility, habitual drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, or other mental incapacity, but cannot be found to be fully incompetent.))

(3) Venue for petitions for guardianship or limited guardianship shall lie in the county wherein the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapaci- tated person is domiciled, or if such person ((is a resident of a state institu- tion for developmentally disabled persons)) resides in a facility supported in whole or in part by local, state, or federal funding sources, in either the county where ((in such institution)) the facility is located, the county of domicile prior to residence in the supported facility, or the county ((where in)) where a parent or spouse of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) in- capacitated person is domiciled.

If the alleged incapacitated person's residency has changed within one year of the filing of the petition, any interested person may move for a change of venue for any proceedings seeking the appointment of a guardian or a limited guardian under this chapter to the county of the alleged in- capacitated person's last place of residence of one year or more. The motion shall be granted when it appears to the court that such venue would be in the best interests of the alleged incapacitated person and would promote more complete consideration of all relevant matters.

(4) Under RCW 11.94.010, a principal may nominate, by a durable power of attorney, the guardian or limited guardian of his or her estate or person for consideration by the court if ((protective)) guardianship pro- ceedings for the principal's person or estate are thereafter commenced. The court shall make its appointment in accordance with the principal's most recent nomination in a durable power of attorney except for good cause or disqualification.

(5) When a court imposes a full guardianship for an incapacitated person, the person shall be considered incompetent for purposes of rationally exercising the right to vote and shall lose the right to vote, unless the court specifically finds that the person is rationally capable of exercising the fran- chise. Imposition of a limited guardianship for an incapacitated person may result in the loss of the right to vote when in the courts discretion, the court determines that the person is incompetent for purposes of rationally exer- cising the franchise.

Sec. 3. Section 11.88.020, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.020 are each amended to read as follows:

Any suitable person over the age of eighteen years, or any parent under the age of eighteen years may, if not otherwise disqualified, be appointed the guardian or limited guardian of the person and/or the estate of an ((in- competent or disabled)) incapacitated person; any trust company regularly organized under the laws of this state and national banks when authorized so to do may act as guardian or limited guardian of the estate of an ((in- competent or disabled)) incapacitated person; and any nonprofit corporation may act as guardian or limited guardian of the person and/or estate of an ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person if the articles of incorpo- ration or bylaws of such corporation permit such action and such corpora- tion is in compliance with all applicable provisions of Title 24 RCW. No person is qualified to serve as a ((domiciliary)) guardian who is

- (1) under eighteen years of age except as otherwise provided herein;
- (2) of unsound mind;
- (3) convicted of a felony or of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude;

(4) a nonresident of this state who has not appointed a resident agent to accept service of process in all actions or proceedings with respect to the estate and caused such appointment to be filed with the court;

(5) a corporation not authorized to act as a fiduciary, guardian, or limited guardian in the state;

(6) a person whom the court finds unsuitable.

Sec. 4. Section 11.88.030, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 3, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.030 are each amended to read as follows:

A petition for guardianship or limited guardianship shall state:

Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be given personally to the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, if over fourteen years of age.

Before appointing a guardian or a limited guardian, notice of a hearing, to be held not less than ten days after service thereof, shall be given by registered or certified mail requesting a return receipt signed by the addressee or an agent appointed by the addressee, or by personal service in the manner provided for services of summons, to the following:

(1) The alleged ((incompetent, disabled)) incapacitated person, or minor, if under fourteen years of age;

(2) A parent, if the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person is a minor, all known children not residing with a notified person, and the spouse of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person if any;

(3) Any other person who has been appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or the person with whom the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person resides. No notice need be given to those persons named in subsections (2) and (3) of this section if they have signed the petition for the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian or have waived notice of the hearing.

(4) If the petition is by a parent asking for ((this)) appointment as guardian or limited guardian of a minor child under the age of fourteen years, or if the petition ((be)) is accompanied by the written consent of a minor of the age of fourteen years or upward, ((consenting)) who consents to the appointment of the guardian or limited guardian asked for, or if the petition ((be)) is by a nonresident guardian of any minor or ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, then the court may appoint the guardian without notice of the hearing. Alternatively, the court may remove itself to the place of residence of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person and conduct the final hearing in the presence of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person. Final hearings on the petition may be held in closed court without admittance of any person other than those necessary to the action or proceeding.

If presence of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person is waived and the court does not remove itself to the place of residence of such person, the guardian ad litem shall appear in person at the final hearing on the petition.

Sec. 6. Section 7, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. as amended by section 5, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.045 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) ((An alleged incompetent or disabled person is entitled to independent legal counsel at his own expense to represent him in the procedure: PROVIDED, That if the alleged incompetent or disabled person is unable to pay for such representation or should such payment result in substantial hardship upon such person the county shall be responsible for such costs: PROVIDED FURTHER, That when, in the opinion of the court, the rights and interests of an alleged or adjudicated incompetent or disabled person cannot otherwise be adequately protected and represented, the court on its own motion shall appoint an attorney at any time to represent such person.

(2)) (a) Alleged incapacitated individuals shall have the right to be represented by counsel at any stage in guardianship proceedings. The court shall provide counsel to represent any alleged incapacitated person at public expense when either: (i) The individual is unable to afford counsel, or (ii) the expense of counsel would result in substantial hardship to the individual, or (iii) the individual does not have practical access to funds with which to pay counsel. If the individual can afford counsel but lacks practical access to funds, the court shall provide counsel and may impose a reimbursement requirement as part of a final order. When, in the opinion of the court, the rights and interests of an alleged or adjudicated incapacitated person cannot otherwise be adequately protected and represented, the court on its own motion shall appoint an attorney at any time to represent such person. Counsel shall be provided as soon as practicable after a petition is filed and long enough before any final hearing to allow adequate time for consultation and preparation. Absent a convincing showing in the record to the contrary, a period of less than three weeks shall be presumed by a reviewing court to be inadequate time for consultation and preparation.

(b) Counsel for an alleged incapacitated individual shall act as an advocate for the client and shall not substitute counsel's own judgment for that of the client on the subject of what may be in the client's best interests. Counsel's role shall be distinct from that of the guardian ad litem, who is expected to promote the best interest of the alleged incapacitated individual, rather than the alleged incapacitated individual's expressed preferences.

(c) If an alleged incapacitated person is represented by counsel and does not communicate with counsel, counsel may ask the court for leave to withdraw for that reason. If satisfied, after affording the alleged incapacitated person an opportunity for a hearing, that the request is justified, the court may grant the request and allow the case to proceed with the alleged incapacitated person unrepresented.

(2) During the pendency of any guardianship, any attorney purporting to represent a person alleged or adjudicated to be incapacitated, shall enter a notice of appearance for appointment to represent the incapacitated or alleged incapacitated person. Fees for representation described in this section shall be subject to approval by the court pursuant to the provisions of RCW 11.92.180.

(3) The alleged (incompetent or disabled) incapacitated person is further entitled upon request to a jury trial on the issues of his or her alleged (incompetency or disability) incapacity. The standard of proof to be applied in a contested case, whether before a jury or the court, shall be that of clear, cogent, and convincing evidence.

((3)) (4) In all proceedings for appointment of a guardian or limited guardian, the court must be presented with a ((medical)) written report ((in writing)) from a physician or psychologist selected by the guardian ad litem

((appointed pursuant to RCW 11.88.090 as now or hereafter amended pertaining to the alleged incompetent or disabled persons' degree of incompetency or disability including the medical history if reasonably available, the effects of any current medication on appearance or the ability to participate fully in the proceedings, and a medical prognosis specifying the estimated length and severity of any current disability)). The physician or psychologist shall have personally examined and interviewed the alleged incapacitated person within thirty days of the report to the court and shall have expertise in the type of disorder or incapacity the alleged incapacitated person is believed to have. The report shall contain the following information and shall be set forth in substantially the following format:

(a) The name and address of the examining physician or psychologist;

(b) The education and experience of the physician or psychologist pertinent to the case;

Sec. 8. Section 11.88.090, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 6, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.090 are each amended to read as follows:

No guardian ad litem need be appointed ((if)) when a parent is petitioning for a guardian or a limited guardian to be appointed for his or her minor child ((if)) and the minority of the child, as defined by RCW 11.92.010, is the sole basis of the petition. The order appointing the guardian ad litem shall recite the duties set forth in subsection ((f)) (5) of this section. The appointment of a guardian ad litem shall have no effect on the legal competency of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person and ((such appointment)) shall not overcome the presumption of competency or full legal and civil rights of the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person.

(3) (a) The superior court of each county shall develop by September 1, 1991, a registry of persons who are willing and qualified to serve as guardians ad litem in guardianship matters. ((6)) (8) The guardian ad litem shall receive a fee determined by the court. The fee shall be charged to the alleged ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person unless the court finds that such payment would result

The court shall not be required to provide for the payment of a fee to any salaried employee of a public ~~((or nonprofit))~~ agency.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 9. A new section is added to chapter 11.88 RCW to read as follows:

(1) In determining the disposition of a petition for guardianship, the court's order shall be based upon findings as to the capacities, condition, and needs of the alleged incapacitated person, and shall not be based solely upon agreements made by the parties.

(2) Every order appointing a full or limited guardian of the person or estate shall include:

(a) Findings as to the capacities, condition, and needs of the alleged incapacitated person;

(b) The amount of the bond, if any, or a bond review period;

(c) When the next report of the guardian is due;

(d) Whether the guardian ad litem shall continue acting as guardian ad litem;

(e) Whether a review hearing shall be required upon the filing of the inventory;

(f) The authority of the guardian, if any, for investment and expenditure of the ward's estate; and

(g) Names and addresses of those persons described in RCW 11.92.090(5)(d), if any, whom the court believes should receive copies of further pleadings filed by the guardian with respect to the guardianship.

(3) If the court determines that a limited guardian should be appointed, the order shall specifically set forth the limits by either stating exceptions to the otherwise full authority of the guardian or by stating the specific authority of the guardian.

(4) In determining the disposition of a petition for appointment of a guardian or limited guardian of the estate only, the court shall consider whether the alleged incapacitated person is capable of giving informed medical consent or of making other personal decisions and, if not, whether a guardian or limited guardian of the person of the alleged incapacitated person should be appointed for that purpose.

(5) If a court determines that the person is incapacitated and that a guardian or limited guardian should be appointed, the court shall determine whether the incapacity is a result of a developmental disability as defined by RCW 71A.10.020, and if so, determine whether the incapacity due to the developmental disability can be expected to continue indefinitely.

Sec. 10. Section 11.88.100, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 1, chapter 271, Laws of 1983 and RCW 11.88.100 are each amended to read as follows:

Before letters of guardianship are issued, each guardian or limited guardian shall take and subscribe an oath and, unless dispensed with by order of the court as provided in RCW 11.88.105, file a bond, with sureties to be approved by the court, payable to the state, in such sum as the court may fix, taking into account the character of the assets on hand or anticipated and the income to be received and disbursements to be made, and such bond shall be conditioned substantially as follows:

The condition of this obligation is such, that if the above bound A.B., who has been appointed guardian or limited guardian for C.D., shall faithfully discharge the office and trust of such guardian or limited guardian according to law and shall render a fair and just account of his guardianship or limited guardianship to the superior court of the county of from time to time as he shall thereto be required by such court, and comply with all orders of the court, lawfully made, relative to the goods, chattels, moneys, care, management, and education of such ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, or his or her property, and render and pay to such ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person all moneys, goods, chattels, title papers, and effects which may come into the hands or possession of such guardian or limited guardian, at such time and in such manner as the court may order ~~((or adjudge))~~, then this obligation shall be void, otherwise ~~((to be and))~~ it shall remain in ((full force and)) effect.

The bond shall be for the use of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, and shall not become void upon the first recovery, but may be put in suit from time to time against all or any one of the obligors, in the name and for the use and benefit of any person entitled by the breach thereof, until the whole penalty is recovered thereon. The court may require an additional bond whenever for any reason it appears to the court that an additional bond should be given.

In all guardianships or limited guardianships of the person, and in all guardianships or limited guardianships of the estate, in which the petition alleges that the alleged ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person has total assets of a value of less than three thousand dollars, the court may dispense with the requirement of a bond pending filing of an inventory confirming that the estate has total assets of less than three thousand dollars:

PROVIDED, That the guardian or limited guardian shall swear to report to the court any changes in the total assets of the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person increasing their value to over three thousand dollars: PROVIDED FURTHER, That ((said)) the guardian or limited guardian shall file a yearly statement showing the monthly income of the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person if said monthly income, excluding moneys from state or federal benefits, is over the sum of ((four)) five hundred dollars per month for any three consecutive months.

Sec. 11. Section 11.88.105, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 11, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.105 are each amended to read as follows:

In cases where all or a portion of the estate consisting of cash or securities ((or both)) has been placed in possession of savings and loan associations or banks, trust companies, escrow corporations, or other corporations approved by the court and if a verified receipt signed by the custodian of the funds is filed by the guardian or limited guardian in court ((therefor)) stating that such corporations hold the ((same)) cash or securities subject to order of court ((then in such case)), the court may in its discretion dispense with the ((giving of a)) bond or reduce the ((same)) amount of the bond by the amount of such deposits ((of cash or securities, and may order that no further reports by said guardian or limited guardian be required until such time as the guardian or limited guardian desires to withdraw such funds or change the investment thereof)).

Sec. 12. Section 11.88.107, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 8, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.107 are each amended to read as follows:

In all cases where a bank or trust company, authorized to act as guardian or limited guardian, or where a nonprofit corporation is authorized under its articles of incorporation to act as guardian or limited guardian, is appointed as guardian or limited guardian, or acts as guardian or limited guardian under an appointment as such heretofore made, no bond shall be required: PROVIDED, That in the case of appointment of a nonprofit corporation court approval shall be required before any bond requirement of this chapter may be ((dispensed with)) waived.

die, who shall give bond and security for the faithful discharge of their duties as prescribed in RCW 11.88.100 as now or hereafter amended, and when any guardian or limited guardian shall be removed or die, and a successor be appointed, the court shall have power to compel such guardian or limited guardian removed to deliver up to such successor all goods, chattels, moneys, title papers, or other effects belonging to such incompetent or disabled person, which may be in the possession of such guardian or limited guardian so removed, or of the personal representatives of a deceased guardian or limited guardian, or in the possession of any other person or persons, or in the possession of a stand-by guardian or limited guardian and upon failure, to commit the party offending to prison, until he complies with the order of the court)) (1) At any time after establishment of a guardianship or appointment of a guardian, the court may, upon the death of the guardian or limited guardian, or for other good reason, modify or terminate the guardianship or replace the guardian or limited guardian.

(2) Any person, including an incapacitated person, may apply to the court for an order to modify or terminate a guardianship or to replace a guardian or limited guardian. If applicants are represented by counsel, counsel shall move for an order to show cause why the relief requested should not be granted. If applicants are not represented by counsel, they may move for an order to show cause, or they may deliver a written request to the clerk of the court.

(3) By the next judicial day after receipt of an unrepresented person's request to modify or terminate a guardianship order, or to replace a guardian or limited guardian, the clerk shall present the request to the court. Any denial of an application without a hearing shall be in writing with the reasons for the denial explained. A copy of the order shall be mailed by the clerk to the applicant, to the guardian, and to any other person entitled to receive notice of proceedings in the matter. Unless within thirty days after receiving the request from the clerk the court directs otherwise, the clerk shall schedule a hearing on the request and mail notice to the guardian, the incapacitated person, the applicant, all counsel of record, and any other person entitled to receive notice of proceedings in the matter.

(4) In a hearing on an application to modify or terminate a guardianship, or to replace a guardian or limited guardian, the court may grant such relief as it deems just and in the best interest of the incapacitated person.

(5) The court may order persons who have been removed as guardians to deliver any property or records belonging to the incapacitated person in accordance with the court's order. Similarly, when guardians have died or been removed and property or records of an incapacitated person are being held by any other person, the court may order that person to deliver it in accordance with the court's order. Disobedience of an order to deliver shall be punishable as contempt of court.

Upon the court's appointment of a new, substitute guardian or limited guardian, the standby guardian or limited guardian shall make an accounting and report to be approved by the court, and upon approval of the court, the standby guardian or limited guardian shall be released from all duties and obligations arising from or out of the guardianship or limited guardianship.

(2) Letters of guardianship shall be issued to the standby guardian or limited guardian upon filing an oath and posting a bond as required by RCW 11.88.100 as now or hereafter amended. (2) TERMINATION OF GUARDIANSHIP FOR A MINOR BY DECLARATION OF COMPLETION. A guardianship for the benefit of a

If the guardian has been required to furnish a bond, and a declaration of completion of guardianship is filed according to this section, any bond furnished by the guardian shall be automatically discharged upon the discharge of the guardian.

(3) TERMINATION ON COURT ORDER. A guardianship or limited guardianship may be terminated by court order after such notice as the court may require: (-

(a) If the guardianship or limited guardianship is of the estate and the estate is exhausted;

(b) If the guardianship or limited guardianship is no longer necessary ((for any other reason)).

((3)) (4) EFFECT OF TERMINATION. When a guardianship or limited guardianship terminates ((otherwise)) other than by the death of the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, the powers of the guardian or limited guardian cease, except that a guardian or limited guardian of the estate may make disbursements for claims that are or may be allowed by the court, for liabilities already properly incurred for the estate or for the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, and for expenses of administration. When a guardianship or limited guardianship terminates by death of the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate may proceed under RCW 11.88.150 as now or hereafter amended, but the rights of all creditors against the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person's estate shall be determined by the law of decedent's estates.

Sec. 18. Section 11.88.150, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 12, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.88.150 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) Upon the death of an incapacitated person, a guardian or limited guardian of the estate shall have authority to disburse or commit those funds under the control of the guardian or limited guardian as are prudent and within the means of the estate for the disposition of the deceased incapacitated person's remains. Consent for such arrangement shall be secured according to RCW 68.50.160. If no person authorized by RCW 68.50.150 accepts responsibility for giving consent, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate may consent, subject to the provisions of this section and to the known directives of the deceased incapacitated person. Reasonable financial commitments made by a guardian or limited guardian pursuant to this section shall be binding against the estate of the deceased incapacitated person.

(2) Upon the death of an ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person intestate the guardian or limited guardian of his estate has power under the letters issued to him and subject to the direction of the court to administer the estate as the estate of the deceased ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person without further letters unless within forty days after death of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person a petition is filed for letters of administration or for letters testamentary and the petition is granted. If the guardian or limited guardian elects to administer the estate under his letters of guardianship or limited guardianship, he shall petition the court for an order transferring the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding to a probate proceeding, and upon court approval, the clerk of the court shall re-index the cause as a decedent's estate, using the same file number which ~~((is))~~ was assigned to the guardianship or limited guardianship proceeding. The guardian or limited guardian shall then be authorized to continue administration of the estate without the necessity for any further petition or hearing. Notice to creditors and other persons interested in the estate shall be published and may be combined with the notice of the guardian's or limited guardian's final account. This notice shall be given and published in the manner provided in ~~((RCW 11.40.010, once each week for three successive weeks, with proof by affidavit of the publication of such notice to be filed with the court. All claims which are not filed within four months after first publication or within four months after the date of filing of the copy of such notice to creditors with the clerk of the court, whichever is later, shall be barred against the estate))~~ chapter 11.40 RCW. Upon the hearing, the account may be allowed and the balance distributed to the persons entitled thereto, after the payment of such claims as may be allowed. Liability on the guardian's or limited guardian's bond shall continue until exonerated on settlement of his account, and may apply to the complete administration of the estate of the deceased ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person with the consent of the surety. If letters of administration ~~((or letters testamentary))~~ are granted upon petition filed within forty days after the death of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, the personal representative shall supersede the guardian or limited guardian in the administration of the estate and the estate shall be administered as a decedent's estate as provided in this title, including the publication of notice to creditors and other interested persons and the barring of creditors claims.

Sec. 19. Section 11.92.035, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 19, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.035 are each amended to read as follows:

(1) DUTY OF GUARDIAN TO PAY. A guardian of the estate is under a duty to pay from the estate all just claims against the estate of ~~((this incompetent))~~ the incapacitated person, whether they constitute liabilities of ~~((the (incompetent) incapacitated person which arose prior to the guardianship or liabilities properly incurred by the guardian for the benefit of the (incompetent) incapacitated person or his or her estate and whether arising in contract or in tort or otherwise, upon allowance of the claim by the court or upon approval of the court in a settlement of the guardian's accounts. The duty of the guardian to pay from the estate shall not preclude (this) the guardian's personal liability for his or her own contracts and acts made and performed on behalf of the estate as it exists according to the common law. If it appears that the estate is likely to be exhausted before all existing claims are paid, preference shall be given to (a) the expenses of administration including guardian's fees, attorneys' fees, and court costs; (b) prior claims for the care, maintenance and education of the (incompetent) incapacitated person and of (this) the person's dependents (and existing claims for expenses of administration) over other claims. Subject to court orders limiting such powers, a limited guardian of an estate shall have the same authority to pay claims.~~

(2) CLAIMS MAY BE PRESENTED. Any person having a claim against the estate of an ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person, or against the guardian of his or her estate as such, may file a written claim with the court for determination at any time before it is barred by the statute of limitations~~((, and,)).~~ After ten days' notice to a guardian or limited guardian, a hearing on the claim shall be held, at which upon proof thereof~~((, procure))~~ and after consideration of any defenses or objections by the guardian, the court may enter an order for its allowance and payment from the estate. Any action against the guardian of the estate as such shall be deemed a claim duly filed.

~~((3) DUTY OF LIMITED GUARDIAN TO PAY. Claims against a limited guardianship estate shall be paid by the limited guardian only to the extent specified in the order appointing the limited guardian.))~~

Sec. 20. Section 9, chapter 30, Laws of 1985 and RCW 11.92.040 are each amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the guardian or limited guardian of an estate:

(1) To ~~((make out and))~~ file within three months after ~~((this or her))~~ the guardian's appointment a verified inventory of all the property of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person which comes ~~((to this or~~ her)) into the guardian's possession or knowledge, including a statement of all encumbrances, liens, and other secured charges on any item;

(2) To file annually, within thirty days after the anniversary date of the guardian's or limited guardian's appointment, and also within thirty days after termination of the appointment, a written verified account of the administration (~~(- PROVIDED, That)~~), which account shall contain at least the following information:

(a) Identification of property of the guardianship estate as of the date of the last account or, in the case of the initial account, as of the date of inventory;

(b) Identification of all additional property received into the guardianship, including income by source;

(c) Identification of all expenditures made during the account period by major categories;

(d) Any adjustments to the guardianship estate required to establish its present fair market value, including gains or losses on sale or other disposition and any mortgages, deeds of trust or other encumbrances against the guardianship estate; and

(e) Identification of all property held in the guardianship estate as of the date of account, the assessed value of any real property and the guardian's estimate of the present fair market values of other property (including the basis on which such estimate is made), and the total net fair market value of the guardianship estate. In addition, immediately following such statement of present fair market value, the account shall set forth a statement of current amount of the guardian's bond and any other court-ordered protection for the security of the guardianship assets. The court in its discretion may allow reports at intervals of up to thirty-six months (~~(- with instruction to)~~) for estates with assets (exclusive of real property) having a value of not more than twice the homestead exemption. Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this section, the guardian or limited guardian of an estate need not file an annual report with the court if the funds of the guardianship are held for the benefit of a minor in a blocked account unless the guardian requests a withdrawal from such account, in which case the guardian shall provide a written verified account of the administration of the guardianship estate along with the guardian's petition for the withdrawal. The guardian or limited guardian (~~(that)~~) shall report any substantial (~~(increase)~~) change in income or assets (~~(or substantial change in the incompetent's or disabled person's condition shall be reported)~~) of the guardianship estate within thirty days of the (~~(substantial increase or)~~) occurrence of the change. A hearing shall be scheduled for court review and determination of provision for increased bond or other provision in accordance with RCW 11.88.100.

(3) ((Consistent with the powers granted by the court, if he or she is a guardian or limited guardian of the person, to care for and maintain the incompetent or disabled person, assert his or her rights and best interests, and if provide timely, informed consent to necessary medical procedures, and if the incompetent or disabled person is a minor, to see that the incompetent or disabled person is properly trained and educated and that the incompetent or disabled person has the opportunity to learn a trade, occupation, or profession. As provided in RCW 11.88.125 as now or hereafter amended, the standby guardian may provide timely, informed consent to necessary medical procedures if the guardian or limited guardian cannot be located within four hours after the need for such consent arises. The guardian or limited guardian of the person may be required to report the condition of his or her incompetent or disabled person to the court, at regular intervals or otherwise as the court may direct. PROVIDED, That no guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian may involuntarily commit for mental health treatment, observation, or evaluation an alleged incompetent or disabled person who is, himself or herself, unable or unwilling to give informed consent to such commitment unless the procedures for involuntary commitment set forth in chapters 71.05 or 72.23 RCW are followed. PROVIDED FURTHER, That nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian to consent to:

- (a) Therapy or other procedure which induces convulsion;
- (b) Surgery solely for the purpose of psychosurgery;
- (c) Amputation;
- (d) Other psychiatric or mental health procedures which are intrusive on the person's bodily integrity, physical freedom of movement, or the rights set forth in RCW 71.05-370.

A guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian who believes such procedures to be necessary for the proper care and maintenance of the incompetent or disabled person shall petition the court for an order unless the court has previously approved that procedure within thirty days immediately past. The court may make such order only after an attorney is appointed in accordance with RCW 11.88.045, as now or hereafter amended, if none has heretofore appeared, notice is given, and a hearing is held in accordance with RCW 11.88.040, as now or hereafter amended. If the court has made a finding as provided in section 9(5) of this 1990 act, that the person is incapacitated as a result of a developmental disability that is expected to continue indefinitely and the incapacitated person's estate has a value, exclusive of real property, of not more than twice the homestead exemption, the court, in its discretion, may allow reports at intervals up to thirty-six months and may modify or waive certain reporting requirements in subsection (2) of this section that the court considers unduly burdensome or inapplicable. The court may not waive the requirement that the guardian or limited guardian report any substantial change in the incapacitated person's income or assets;

(4) ~~((If he or she is a guardian or limited guardian of the estate,))~~ To protect and preserve ~~((it))~~ the guardianship estate, to apply it as provided in this chapter, to account for it faithfully, to perform all of the duties required by law, and at the termination of the guardianship or limited guardianship, to deliver the assets of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person to the persons entitled thereto. Except as provided to the contrary herein, the court may authorize a guardian or limited guardian to do anything that a trustee can do under the provisions of RCW 11.98.070 for a period not exceeding one year from the date of the order or for a period corresponding to the interval in which the guardian's or limited guardian's report is required to be filed by the court pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, whichever period is longer;

(5) To invest and reinvest the property of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person in accordance with the rules applicable to investment of trust estates by trustees as provided in chapter 11.100 RCW, except that:

(a) No investments shall be made without prior order of the court in any property other than unconditional interest bearing obligations of this state or of the United States and in obligations the interest and principal of which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States, and in share accounts or deposits which are insured by an agency of the United States government. Such prior order of the court may authorize specific investments, or, in the discretion of the court, may authorize the guardian or limited guardian during a period not exceeding one year following the date of the order or for a period corresponding to the interval in which the guardian's or limited guardian's report is required to be filed by the court pursuant to subsection (2) of this section, whichever period is longer, to invest and reinvest as provided in chapter 11.100 RCW without further order of the court;

(b) If it is for the best interests of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person that a specific property be used by the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person rather than sold and the proceeds invested, the court may so order;

(6) To apply to the court ~~((for))~~ no later than the filing of the inventory for an order authorizing ~~((any))~~ disbursements on behalf of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That the guardian or limited guardian of the estate, or the person, department, bureau, agency, or charitable organization having the care and custody of an ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, may apply to the court for an order directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to pay to the person, department, bureau, agency, or charitable organization having the care and custody of an ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, or if the guardian or limited guardian of the estate has the care and custody of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, directing the guardian or limited guardian of the estate to apply an amount weekly, monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually, as the court may direct, to be expended in the care, maintenance, and education of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person and of his or her dependents. In proper cases, the court may order payment of amounts directly to the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person for his or her maintenance or incidental expenses. The amounts authorized under this section may be decreased or increased from time to time by direction of the court. If payments are made to another under an order of the court, the guardian or limited guardian of the estate is not bound to see to the application thereof.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 21. A new section is added to chapter 11.92 RCW to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of the guardian or limited guardian of the person:

(1) To file within three months after appointment a personal care plan for the incapacitated person which shall include (a) an assessment of the incapacitated person's physical, mental, and emotional needs and of such person's ability to perform or assist in activities of daily living, and (b) the guardian's specific plan for meeting the identified and emerging personal care needs of the incapacitated person.

(2) To file annually or, where a guardian of the estate has been appointed, at the time an account is required to be filed under RCW 11.92-.040, a report on the status of the incapacitated person, which shall include:

(f) Activities of the guardian for the period;

(g) Any recommended changes in the scope of the authority of the guardian;

(h) The identity of any professionals who have assisted the incapacitated person during the period.

If the court has made a finding as provided in section 9(5) of this 1990 act, that the person is incapacitated as a result of a developmental disability that is expected to continue indefinitely, the court in its discretion, may allow reports at intervals up to thirty-six months and may modify or waive certain reporting requirements in this subsection, that the court considers inapplicable or unduly burdensome. The court may not waive the requirement that the guardian or limited guardian report any substantial change in the incapacitated person's condition.

(3) To report to the court within thirty days any substantial change in the incapacitated person's condition, or any changes in residence of the incapacitated person.

(4) Consistent with the powers granted by the court, to care for and maintain the incapacitated person in the setting least restrictive to the incapacitated person's freedom and appropriate to the incapacitated person's personal care needs, assert the incapacitated person's rights and best interests, and if the incapacitated person is a minor or where otherwise appropriate, to see that the incapacitated person receives appropriate training and education and that the incapacitated person has the opportunity to learn a trade, occupation, or profession.

(5) Consistent with RCW 7.70.065, to provide timely, informed consent for health care of the incapacitated person, except in the case of a limited guardian where such power is not expressly provided for in the order of appointment or subsequent modifying order as provided in RCW 11.88.125 as now or hereafter amended, the standby guardian or standby limited guardian may provide timely, informed consent to necessary medical procedures if the guardian or limited guardian cannot be located within four hours after the need for such consent arises. No guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian may involuntarily commit for mental health treatment, observation, or evaluation an alleged incapacitated person who is unable or unwilling to give informed consent to such commitment unless the procedures for involuntary commitment set forth in chapter 71.05 or 72.23 RCW are followed. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow a guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian to consent to:

- (b) Surgery solely for the purpose of psychosurgery;
- (c) Other psychiatric or mental health procedures that restrict physical freedom of movement, or the rights set forth in RCW 71.05.370.

A guardian, limited guardian, or standby guardian who believes these procedures are necessary for the proper care and maintenance of the incapacitated person shall petition the court for an order unless the court has previously approved the procedure within the past thirty days. The court may order the procedure only after an attorney is appointed in accordance with RCW 11.88.045 if no attorney has previously appeared, notice is given, and a hearing is held in accordance with RCW 11.88.040.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 22. A new section is added to chapter 11.92 RCW to read as follows:

Upon such petition being filed, the court may in its discretion, where the size or condition of the estate warrants it, set a date for the hearing of such petition and require the service of the petition and a notice of such hearing as provided in RCW 11.88.040 as now or hereafter amended; and, in the event such a hearing be ordered, the court shall also appoint a guardian ad litem, whose duty it shall be to investigate the report of the guardian or limited guardian of the estate and to advise the court thereon at said hearing, in writing. At such hearing on said report of the guardian or limited guardian, if the court be satisfied that the actions of the guardian or limited guardian have been proper, and that the guardian or limited guardian has in all respects discharged his trust with relation to such receipts, expenditures, investments, and acts, then, in such event, the court shall enter an order approving such account, and such order shall be final and binding upon the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, subject only to the right of appeal as upon a final order, provided that at the time of final account of said guardian or limited guardian or within one year after said ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person attains his majority any such interim account may be challenged by said ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person on the ground of fraud.

Upon such petition being filed, the court shall set a date for the hearing of such petition after notice has been given in accordance with RCW 11.88-.040. Any person interested may file objections to such petition or may appear at the time and place fixed for the hearing thereof and present his objections thereto. The court may take such testimony as it deems proper or necessary to determine whether an order settling the account should be issued and the transactions of the guardian be approved.

At such hearing on said petition of the guardian or limited guardian, if the court be satisfied that the actions of the guardian or limited guardian have been proper, and that the guardian has in all respects discharged his trust with relation to such receipts, expenditures, investments, and acts, then, in such event, the court shall enter an order approving such account, and such order shall be final and binding upon the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person, subject only to the right of appeal as upon a final order: PROVIDED, That within one year after said incompetent attains his majority any such account may be challenged by ~~((said incompetent))~~ the incapacitated person on the ground of fraud.

Sec. 30. Section 11.92.115, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 27, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.115 are each amended to read as follows:

The guardian or limited guardian making any sale of real estate, either at public or private sale or sale by negotiation, shall within ten days after making such sale file with the clerk of the court his return of such sale, the ~~same~~ being duly verified. At any time after the expiration of ten days from the filing of such return, the court may, without notice, approve and confirm ~~such~~ sale and direct proper instruments of transfer to be executed and delivered. Upon the confirmation of any such sale, the court shall direct the guardian or limited guardian to make, execute and deliver instruments conveying the title to the person to whom such property may be sold and such instruments of conveyance shall be deemed to convey all the estate, rights and interest of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person and of ~~((his))~~ the persons' estate. In the case of a sale by negotiation the guardians or limited guardians shall publish a notice in one issue of a legal newspaper published in the county in which the estate is being administered; the substance of such notice shall include the legal description of the property sold, the selling price and the date after which the sale may be confirmed: PROVIDED, That such confirmation date shall be at least ten days after such notice is published.

Sec. 31. Section 11.92.130, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 29, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.130 are each amended to read as follows:

If any person who is bound by contract in writing to perform shall become ~~((incompetent or become a disabled person))~~ incapacitated before making the performance, the court having jurisdiction of the guardianship or limited guardianship of such property may, upon application of the guardian or limited guardian of ~~((such incompetent or disabled))~~ the incapacitated person, or upon application of the person claiming to be entitled to the performance, make an order authorizing and directing the guardian or limited guardian to perform such contract. The application and the proceedings, shall, as nearly as may be, be the same as provided in chapter 11.60 RCW.

Sec. 32. Section 10, chapter 30, Laws of 1985 and RCW 11.92.140 are each amended to read as follows:

The court, upon the petition of a guardian of the estate of an ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person ~~((collectively hereafter referred to in this section as "incompetent"))~~ other than the guardian of a minor, and after such notice as the court directs and other notice to all persons interested as required by chapter 11.96 RCW, may authorize the guardian to take any action, or to apply funds not required for the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's own maintenance and support, in any fashion the court approves as being in keeping with the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's wishes so far as they can be ascertained and as designed to minimize insofar as possible current or prospective state or federal income and estate taxes, permit entitlement under otherwise available federal or state medical or other assistance programs, and to provide for gifts to such charities, relatives, and friends as would be likely recipients of donations from the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person.

The action or application of funds may include but shall not be limited to the making of gifts, to the conveyance or release of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's contingent and expectant interests in property including marital property rights and any right of survivorship incident to joint tenancy or tenancy by the entirety, to the exercise or release of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's powers as donee of a power of appointment, the making of contracts, the creation of revocable or irrevocable trusts of property of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's estate which may extend beyond the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's disability or life, the exercise of options of the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person to purchase securities or other property, the exercise of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's right to elect options and to change beneficiaries under insurance and annuity policies and the surrendering of policies for their cash value, the exercise of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's right to any elective share in the estate of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's deceased spouse, and the renunciation or disclaimer of any interest acquired by testate or intestate succession or by inter vivos transfer.

The guardian in the petition shall briefly outline the action or application of funds for which approval is sought, the results expected to be accomplished thereby and the ~~((tax))~~ savings expected to accrue. The proposed action or application of funds may include gifts of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's personal or real property. Gifts may be for the benefit of prospective legatees, devisees, or heirs apparent of the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person, or may be made to individuals or charities in which the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person is believed to have an interest. Gifts may or may not, in the discretion of the court, be treated as advancements to donees who would otherwise inherit property from the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person under the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's will or under the laws of descent and distribution. The guardian shall also indicate in the petition that any planned disposition is consistent with the intentions of the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person insofar as the intentions can be ascertained, and if the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's intentions cannot be ascertained, the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person will be presumed to favor reduction in the incidence of the various forms of taxation and the partial distribution of the ~~((incompetent's))~~ incapacitated person's estate as provided in this section. The guardian shall not, however, be required to include as a beneficiary any person whom there is reason to believe would be excluded by the ~~((incompetent))~~ incapacitated person. No guardian may be required to file a petition as provided in this section, and a failure or refusal to so petition the court does not constitute a breach of the guardian's fiduciary duties.

Sec. 33. Section 11, chapter 30, Laws of 1985 and RCW 11.92.150 are each amended to read as follows:

At any time after the issuance of letters of guardianship in the estate of any ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ person and/or incapacitated person, any person interested in the estate, or in the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, or any relative of the ~~((incompetent or disabled))~~ incapacitated person, or any authorized representative of any agency, bureau, or department of the United States government from or through which any compensation, insurance, pension or other benefit is being paid, or is payable, may serve upon the guardian or limited guardian, or upon the attorney for the guardian or limited guardian, and file with the clerk of the court where the ~~((administration of the))~~ guardianship or limited guardianship of the person and/or estate is pending, a written request stating ~~((that special written notice is desired of any or all of the following matters: steps or proceedings in the administration of the estate:~~

(1) Filing of petition for sales, exchanges, leases, mortgages, or grants of easements, licenses, or similar interests in any property of the estate.

(2) Filing of all intermediate or final accountings or accountings of any nature whatsoever.

(3) Petitions by the guardian or limited guardian for family allowances or allowances for the incompetent or disabled person or any other allowance of every nature from the funds of the estate.

(4) Petitions for the investment of the funds of the estate.

(5) Petition to terminate guardianship or limited guardianship or petition for adjudication of competency.

(6) Petition for judicial proceedings under chapter 11.96 RCW) the specific actions of which the applicant requests advance notice. Where the notice does not specify matters for which notice is requested, the guardian or limited guardian shall provide copies of all documents filed with the court and advance notice of his or her application for court approval of any action in the guardianship.

The request for special written notice shall designate the name, address and post office address of the person upon whom the notice is to be served and no service shall be required under this section and RCW 11.92.160 as now or hereafter amended other than in accordance with the designation unless and until a new designation has been made.

When any account, report, petition, or proceeding is filed in the estate of which special written notice is requested, the court shall fix a time for hearing which shall allow at least ten days for service of the notice before the hearing; and notice of the hearing shall be served upon the person designated in the written request at least ten days before the date fixed for the hearing. The service may be made by leaving a copy with the person designated, or that person's authorized representative, or by mailing through the United States mail, with postage prepaid to the person and place designated.

Sec. 34. Section 11.92.160, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 31, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.160 as each amended to read as follows:

Whenever any request for special written notice is served as provided in this section and RCW 11.92.150 as now or hereafter amended, the person making such request may, upon failure of any guardian or limited guardian for any ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, to file any account or report required by law, petition the court administering such estate for a citation requiring such guardian or limited guardian to file such report or account, or to show cause for failure to do so, and thereupon the court shall issue such citation and hold a hearing thereon and enter such order as is required by the law and the facts.

Sec. 35. Section 11.92.170, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as last amended by section 16, chapter 309, Laws of 1977 ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.170 are each amended to read as follows:

Whenever it is made to appear that it would be in the best interests of the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person, the court may order the transfer of property in this state to a guardian or limited guardian of the estate of the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person appointed in another jurisdiction, or to a person or institution having similar authority with respect to the ((incompetent or disabled)) incapacitated person.

Sec. 36. Section 11.92.180, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 33, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.180 are each amended to read as follows:

A guardian or limited guardian shall be allowed such compensation for his or her services as guardian or limited guardian as the court shall deem just and reasonable. Guardians and limited guardians shall not be compensated at public expense. Additional compensation may be allowed for ((this necessary)) other administrative costs, including services ((as)) of an attorney and for other ((necessary)) services not ((required of a)) provided by the guardian or limited guardian. ((He may also be allowed compensation for necessary expenses in the administration of his trust, including reasonable attorney's fees if the employment of an attorney for the particular purpose is necessary.)) Where a guardian or limited guardian is an attorney, the guardian or limited guardian shall separately account for time for which compensation is requested for services as a guardian or limited guardian as contrasted to time for which compensation for legal services provided to the guardianship is requested. In all cases, compensation of the guardian or limited guardian and his or her expenses including attorney's fees shall be fixed by the court and may be allowed at any annual or final accounting; but at any time during the administration of the estate, the guardian or limited guardian or his or her attorney may apply to the court for an allowance upon the compensation or necessary expenses of the guardian or limited guardian and for attorney's fees for services already performed. If the court finds that the guardian or limited guardian has failed to discharge his or her duties as such in any respect, it may deny ((him)) the guardian any compensation whatsoever or may reduce the compensation which would otherwise be allowed.

Sec. 37. Section 11.92.185, chapter 145, Laws of 1965 as amended by section 34, chapter 95, Laws of 1975 1st ex. sess. and RCW 11.92.185 are each amended to read as follows:

CHAPTER 123

[Substitute Senate Bill No. 6700]

MOTOR FREIGHT CARRIERS OF RECOVERED MATERIALS

AN ACT Relating to regulation of motor freight carriers transporting recovered materials; adding new sections to chapter 81.80 RCW, creating a new section; and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Washington:

NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. A new section is added to chapter 81.80

RCW to read as follows:

(1) It is unlawful for a motor vehicle transporting recovered materials to perform a transportation service for compensation upon the public highways of this state without first having received a permit from the commission. The permits shall be granted upon a finding that the motor carrier is fit, willing, and able to provide transportation of recovered materials, and upon payment of the appropriate filing fee authorized by this chapter for other applications for operating authority, including payment of the annual regulatory fee imposed by RCW 81.80.320. The carriers are subject to the safety of operations and insurance requirements of the commission, but are not subject to rate regulation by the commission.

(2) The provisions of this section apply to motor vehicles when:

- (a) Transporting recovered materials from a site generating ten thousand or more tons of recovered materials per year to a reprocessing facility or an end-use manufacturing site;
- (b) Transporting recovered materials from a reprocessing facility to another reprocessing facility or to an end-use manufacturing site; or
- (c) Transporting recovered mixed waste paper from a reprocessing facility to an energy recovery facility.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) "Recovered materials" means those commodities collected for recycling or reuse, such as papers, glass, plastics, used wood, metals, yard waste, used oil, and tires, that if not collected for recycling would otherwise be destined for disposal or incineration. "Recovered materials" shall not include any wood waste or wood byproduct generated from a logging, milling, or chipping activity;

(b) "Reprocessing facility" means a business registered under chapter 82.32 RCW or a nonprofit corporation identified under chapter 24.03 RCW that accepts or purchases recovered materials and prepares those materials for resale;

(c) "Mixed waste paper" means assorted low-value grades of paper that have not been separated into individual grades of paper at the point of collection; and

(d) "Energy recovery facility" means a facility designed to burn mixed waste paper as a fuel, except that such term does not include mass burn incinerators.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 2. (1) The department of trade and economic development, in conjunction with the utilities and transportation commission and the department of ecology, shall evaluate the effect of exempting motor vehicles transporting recovered materials from rate regulation as provided under section 1 of this act. The evaluation shall, at a minimum, describe the effect of such exemption on:

(a) The cost and timeliness of transporting recovered materials within the state;

(b) The volume of recovered materials transported within the state;

(c) The number of safety violations and traffic accidents related to transporting recovered materials within the state; and

(d) The availability of service related to transporting recovered materials from rural areas of the state.

(2) The department shall report the results of its evaluation to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature by October 1, 1993.

(3) The commission shall adopt rules requiring persons transporting recovered materials to submit information required under RCW 70.95.280. In adopting such rules, the commission shall include procedures to ensure the confidentiality of proprietary information.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 3. A new section is added to chapter 81.80

RCW to read as follows:

Nothing in this act shall be construed as changing the provisions of RCW 81.77.010(8), nor shall this act be construed as allowing any entity, other than a solid waste collection company authorized by the commission or an entity collecting solid waste from a city or town under the provisions of chapter 35.21 or 35A.21 RCW, to collect solid waste which may incidentally contain recyclable materials.

NEW SECTION. Sec. 4. This act is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, the support of the state government and its existing public institutions, and shall take effect immediately.

Passed the Senate March 6, 1990.

Passed the House March 1, 1990.

Approved by the Governor March 21, 1990.

Filed in Office of Secretary of State March 21, 1990.

COMMITTEE: Local Government

Providing for new boards of commissioners for merged fire districts.

ISSUE:

Present law does not, as to the manner of constituting boards of fire commissioners, provide for certain mergers of fire protection districts. For example, as to the merger of two fire protection districts, it provides only for mergers of two districts with three commissioners apiece. This is not always the case, as some fire protection districts have five commissioners and others may have over three commissioners if they were formed by a recent merger. Under present law, when two three-member districts are merged, the new board consists of the six members from the old board. That number is reduced to three by electing only one instead of two commissioners in each of the three subsequent elections. (Fire commissioners normally are elected for six year terms.)

Also, the law as to merger of more than two fire protection districts sets out a procedure for merger that is completely different from that for merger of two districts. As to mergers of more than two fire protection districts, one commissioner from each district is selected by the present commissioners of each district to serve until the next general election. At this election three commissioners are elected, the number of votes received by each determining whether he shall serve six, four or two years, with normal procedures for reelection occurring thereafter.

SUMMARY:

The bill adopts procedures for mergers identical to those set forth for the merger of two districts. Thus, no matter how many districts are merged or the respective number of commissioners on each of the old boards, all of the commissioners from the old districts serve on the new board until the next election. At that election and thereafter, notwithstanding the number of commissioners whose terms expire (the terms of all will expire naturally over a six year period), only one position is filled until the board is reduced to the proper number, whether it be five or three members.

PARTIAL VETO

(Originally sponsored by Senator Marsh)

COMMITTEE: Judiciary

Revising out-dated and offensive language pertaining to the physically, mentally and sensory handicapped and providing a defined process to determine mental status due to incompetency or disability.

ISSUE:

State laws contain numerous out-dated and offensive references to mentally and physically handicapped individuals. They are often referred to in the statutes as idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded or defective persons. Such references are not only objectionable, but also imprecise in that they do not refer to any specific legal standard or definition.

SUMMARY:

The bill deletes offensive references to the handicapped throughout the Revised Code of Washington and substitutes terminology which has a specific meaning in state law. The new terminology adopted includes "incompetent or disabled persons" which is defined in the guardianship and limited guardianship statutes, "developmentally disabled" which is defined in the law providing services for mentally retarded persons, and "mental, physical, or sensory handicap" which is used in the human rights law.

Senate: 46 0 Effective: Sept. 21, 1977
House: 91 0 C 80 L 77 1st ex. sess.

VETO SUMMARY:

The Governor vetoed several sections of the bill which would have eliminated the present prohibition against certain persons marrying unless procreation is impossible. In her message, she stated that she felt that the effects of these sections went far beyond the intent of the bill. The persons subject to the prohibition in these sections include common drunkards, habitual criminals, imbeciles, feeble-minded persons, idiots and insane persons. (See VETO MESSAGE)

4.16.190. Statute tolled by personal disability

If a person entitled to bring an action mentioned in this chapter, except for a penalty or forfeiture, or against a sheriff or other officer, for an escape, be at the time the cause of action accrued either under the age of eighteen years, or incompetent or disabled to such a degree that he or she cannot understand the nature of the proceedings, such incompetency or disability as determined according to chapter 11.88 RCW, or imprisoned on a criminal charge prior to sentencing, the time of such disability shall not be a part of the time limited for the commencement of action. [1993 c 232 § 1; 1977 ex.s. c 80 § 2; 1971 ex.s. c 292 § 74; Code 1881 § 37; 1877 p 9 § 38; 1869 p 10 § 38; 1861 p 61 § 1; 1854 p 364 § 11; RRS § 169.]

Historical and Statutory Notes

Purpose—Intent—1977 ex.s. c 80: "It is the purpose of the legislature in enacting this 1977 amendatory act to provide for a comprehensive revision of out-dated and offensive language, procedures and assumptions that have previously been used to identify and categorize mentally, physically, and sensory handicapped citizens. It is legislative intent that language references such as idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded or defective persons be deleted and replaced with more appropriate references to reflect current statute law more recently enacted by the federal government and this legislature. It is legislative belief that use of the undefined term 'insanity' be avoided in preference to the use of a process for defining incompetency or disability as fully set forth in chapter 11.88 RCW; that language that has allowed or implied a presumption of incompetency or disability on the basis of an apparent condition or appearance be deleted in favor of a reference to necessary due process allowing a judicial determination of the existence or lack of existence of such incompetency or disability." [1977 ex.s. c 80 § 1.]

Severability—1971 ex.s. c 292: See note following RCW 26.28.010.

Laws 1971, Ex.Sess., ch. 292, § 74, lowered the age of disability from twenty-one years to eighteen years.

Laws 1977, Ex.Sess., ch. 80, § 2 substituted the phrase "incompetent or disabled to such a degree that he or she cannot understand the nature of the proceedings, such incompetency or disability as determined according to chapter 11.88 RCW" for the word "insane."

Laws 1993, ch. 232, § 1, near the end of the section, preceding ", the time of such disability shall not be a part" substituted "prior to sentencing" for ", or in execution under the sentence of a court for a term less than his natural life".
